Mrs. A. R. McCulloch was commentator for the show.

Cloche, pagoda, bubble pillbox, thimble crown, puff, turban, fedora, toque and cartwheel shapes, fashioned in woven straw, ribbon straw, netted straw, mohair, meline, petals and patent leather, showed the intriguing variety in millinery modes for spring. The highlight hat of the show was a wide-brimmed and shallow-crowned sailor with tiers of black net on the brim. A round of applause greeted the three variations of the hat as Miss Treva Birch who modelled it, added flowered toques which fitted snugly over the small crown; a high white floral toque, another tall one of pink, and a smaller one of roses.

The showing brought spring a step nearer to those who saw it.

- QUERIES: (Means "Wants Ancestry with dates and etc.")
Rules 1. Send all communication to Mrs. Mahala M. Waywell, 4 Marjory Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, Canada
2. DO NOT SEND U. S. POSTAL NOTES--they cannot be cashed in Canada. MONEY ORDERS are all right.
3. Please keep these for future reference. There is no charge for this paper, but we are dependent upon voluntary contributions in order to maintain its existence.
4. In answering queries the number of the query should be given.

WHEN SENDING QUERIES, instead of including them in your letter, make out a pedigree chart and group sheet and on the back make any remarks. This makes it much easier than having to search through the letter and then have to place them on group sheets and pedigree charts.

THE SWITZERS OF THE BAY OF QUINTE--taken from the Ont. Historical Papers & Records, Vol. VI.

The Switzers came from Germany. They were driven from the Palatine on the Rhine by the persecuting bigotry of Louis XIV., in the seventeenth century, and emigrated to Ireland, under auspices of the British Government, and settled in the County of Limerick, in the reign of Queen Anne. They received grants of land for each person, for which the Government paid the rent for twenty years. In company with the Switzers were the Emburys, Hecks, Ruckles, and others. They were called the Irish Palatines. In the good Protestant soil of their hearts the seed of Methodism was early sown.

In 1760, Peter Switzer, in company with Philip Embury and Paul Heck, emigrated to the United States and settled in New York, August 10, where the family remained for some years, during which time the first Methodist sermon was preached by Philip Embury, whose wife Mary Switzer, was a sister of Peter Switzer. The congregation was composed of four persons--Paul Heck, his wife, Barbara; John Lawrence (his hired man), and an African servant, named Betty. These were formed into a class, and thus the germ of Methodism was planted on the American continent.

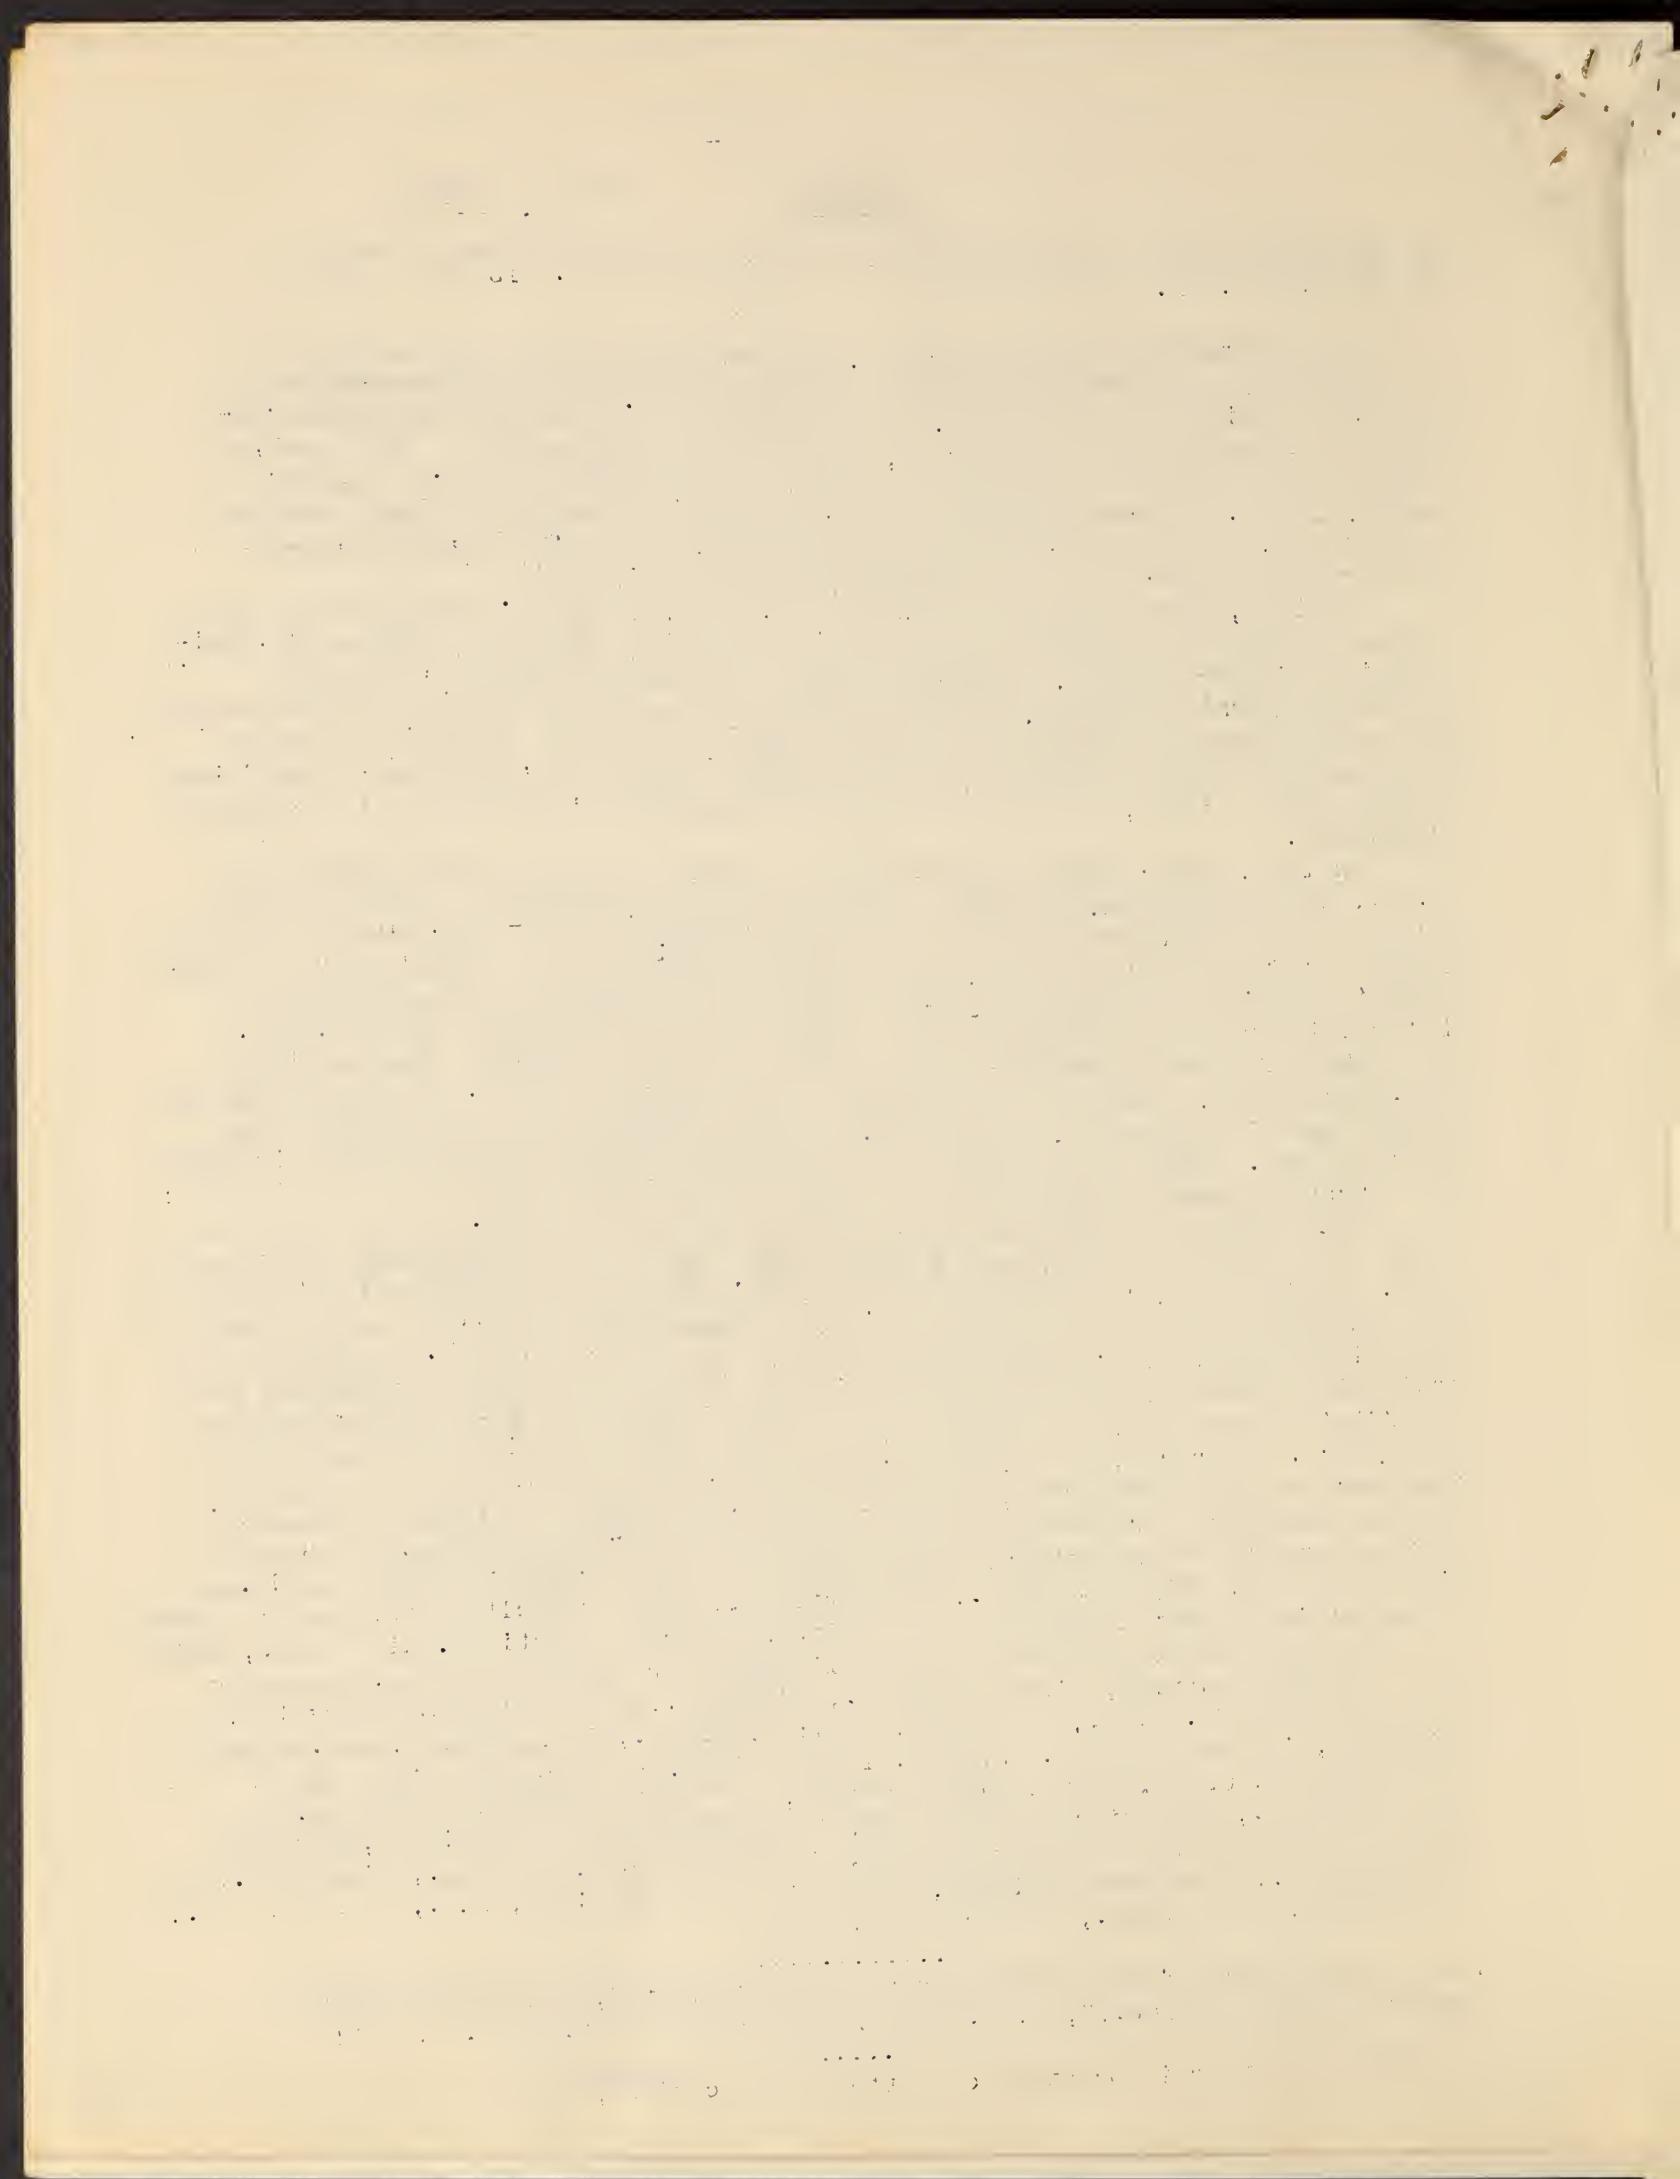

In 1770, Peter Switzer moved with his family to Salem, Washington County, N. Y., where Philip Embury died at the early age of forty-five. On the outbreak of the Revolutionary War these loyal Palatines, whose forefathers had enjoyed a refuge under the British flag, would not share the revolt of the American colonies against the Mother Country. Some of them removed to Lower Canada. Peter Switzer and his family of three sons and five daughters remained in New York State for some years after the close of the War in 1783. His daughter, Mrs. Mary Empey, went over and brought them to Canada, and they resided with her in her home in Ernesttown. Peter Switzer and his wife lived to be over eighty years of age. They were buried in the Fourth Concession burying ground in 1816; this church cemetery being one of the first erected in Canada.

Philip Switzer, Peter Switzer's Eldest son, came to Canada soon after the close of the war and settled in Loughborough, where their descendants still reside. Christopher, the youngest son, emigrated with his family of three sons and two daughters and settled in the Township of Ernesttown in 1807. On his farm the well-known Switzer's Church was built in 1826, and the first conference and ordination service in Canada was held in this church in 1828. Christopher was an efficient and popular exhorter and class leader in the Methodist Church for many years. He received an injury from a fall, which resulted in death after a few hours of great suffering, but they were hours also of peace and triumph. His two daughters married farmers by the name of Shorey and McKim, and settled in the Township of Ernesttown, where many of their descendants still reside. His three sons, Elijah, John G., and Martin R., were agriculturists, and owned farms within a short distance of the Switzer Church. (Martin R. died May 9, 1860)

Two daughters of Elijah are still living and reside in Napanee. Three sons and a daughter survive, viz: Martin R., Edmund B., residing in Switzerville, Lennox County; Dr. E. R., in Salina, Kas.; Wilbur F., in Deloraine, Man.; and Elizabeth, in Switzerville. John G. left a widow, four sons and three daughters. His daughters, Ora Williams, Eliza Wartman, and Maria Huffman, and a son, Christopher M., have since passed away, leaving quite large families, few of whom have settled in the native county. The other sons, Anson G., William H., and Robert N., and their families, reside in Carleton Place, Ont., Dresden, Ont., and Philadelphia, Penna., respectively.

Incidents and records of family of James McCollom, who came from Argyleshire, Scotland, about the year 1765, and first located in New Jersey, where he obtained lands, and was married to a Miss Sarah Campbell, who had two children, and died soon after the birth of the second child.

Several years afterwards he was again married to Miss Eunice French, and as traveling westward appears to have been popular even at that early day, he disposed of his property in New Jersey, and with other pioneers, followed up the beautiful Hudson River to a place called Cherry Valley, in New York State, and again obtained land upon which he resided with his family during the period of the Revolutionary War. Other property in the vicinity of Albany was many years ago reported to be of fabulous value, as a portion of the city is located upon it.

Mrs. Folwell, an aged lady of Toronto, whose mother was formerly Mary McCollom, a daughter of James and Eunice McCollom, states that her grandfather was well brought up and educated, and a man of rank in Scotland. He had not been brought up to work, and was not inclined to undertake it; but was a great Mason and Presbyterian, and was disposed to share occasionally in convivial habits that were popular in these days. He was also a staunch adherent to the cause of Royalty and to the British Empire, with her substantial forms of Government, and her established laws, and progresses in arts, science, literature, and religion, and with a firm belief in the ability of her statesmen to rectify by constitutional methods the oppressive legislation enacted by the British Parliament, and assented to by King George III to compel colonists to pay a portion of the enormous war debt incurred very largely in their behalf during the Seven Years' War; also to amend the laws limiting exports to British channels only.

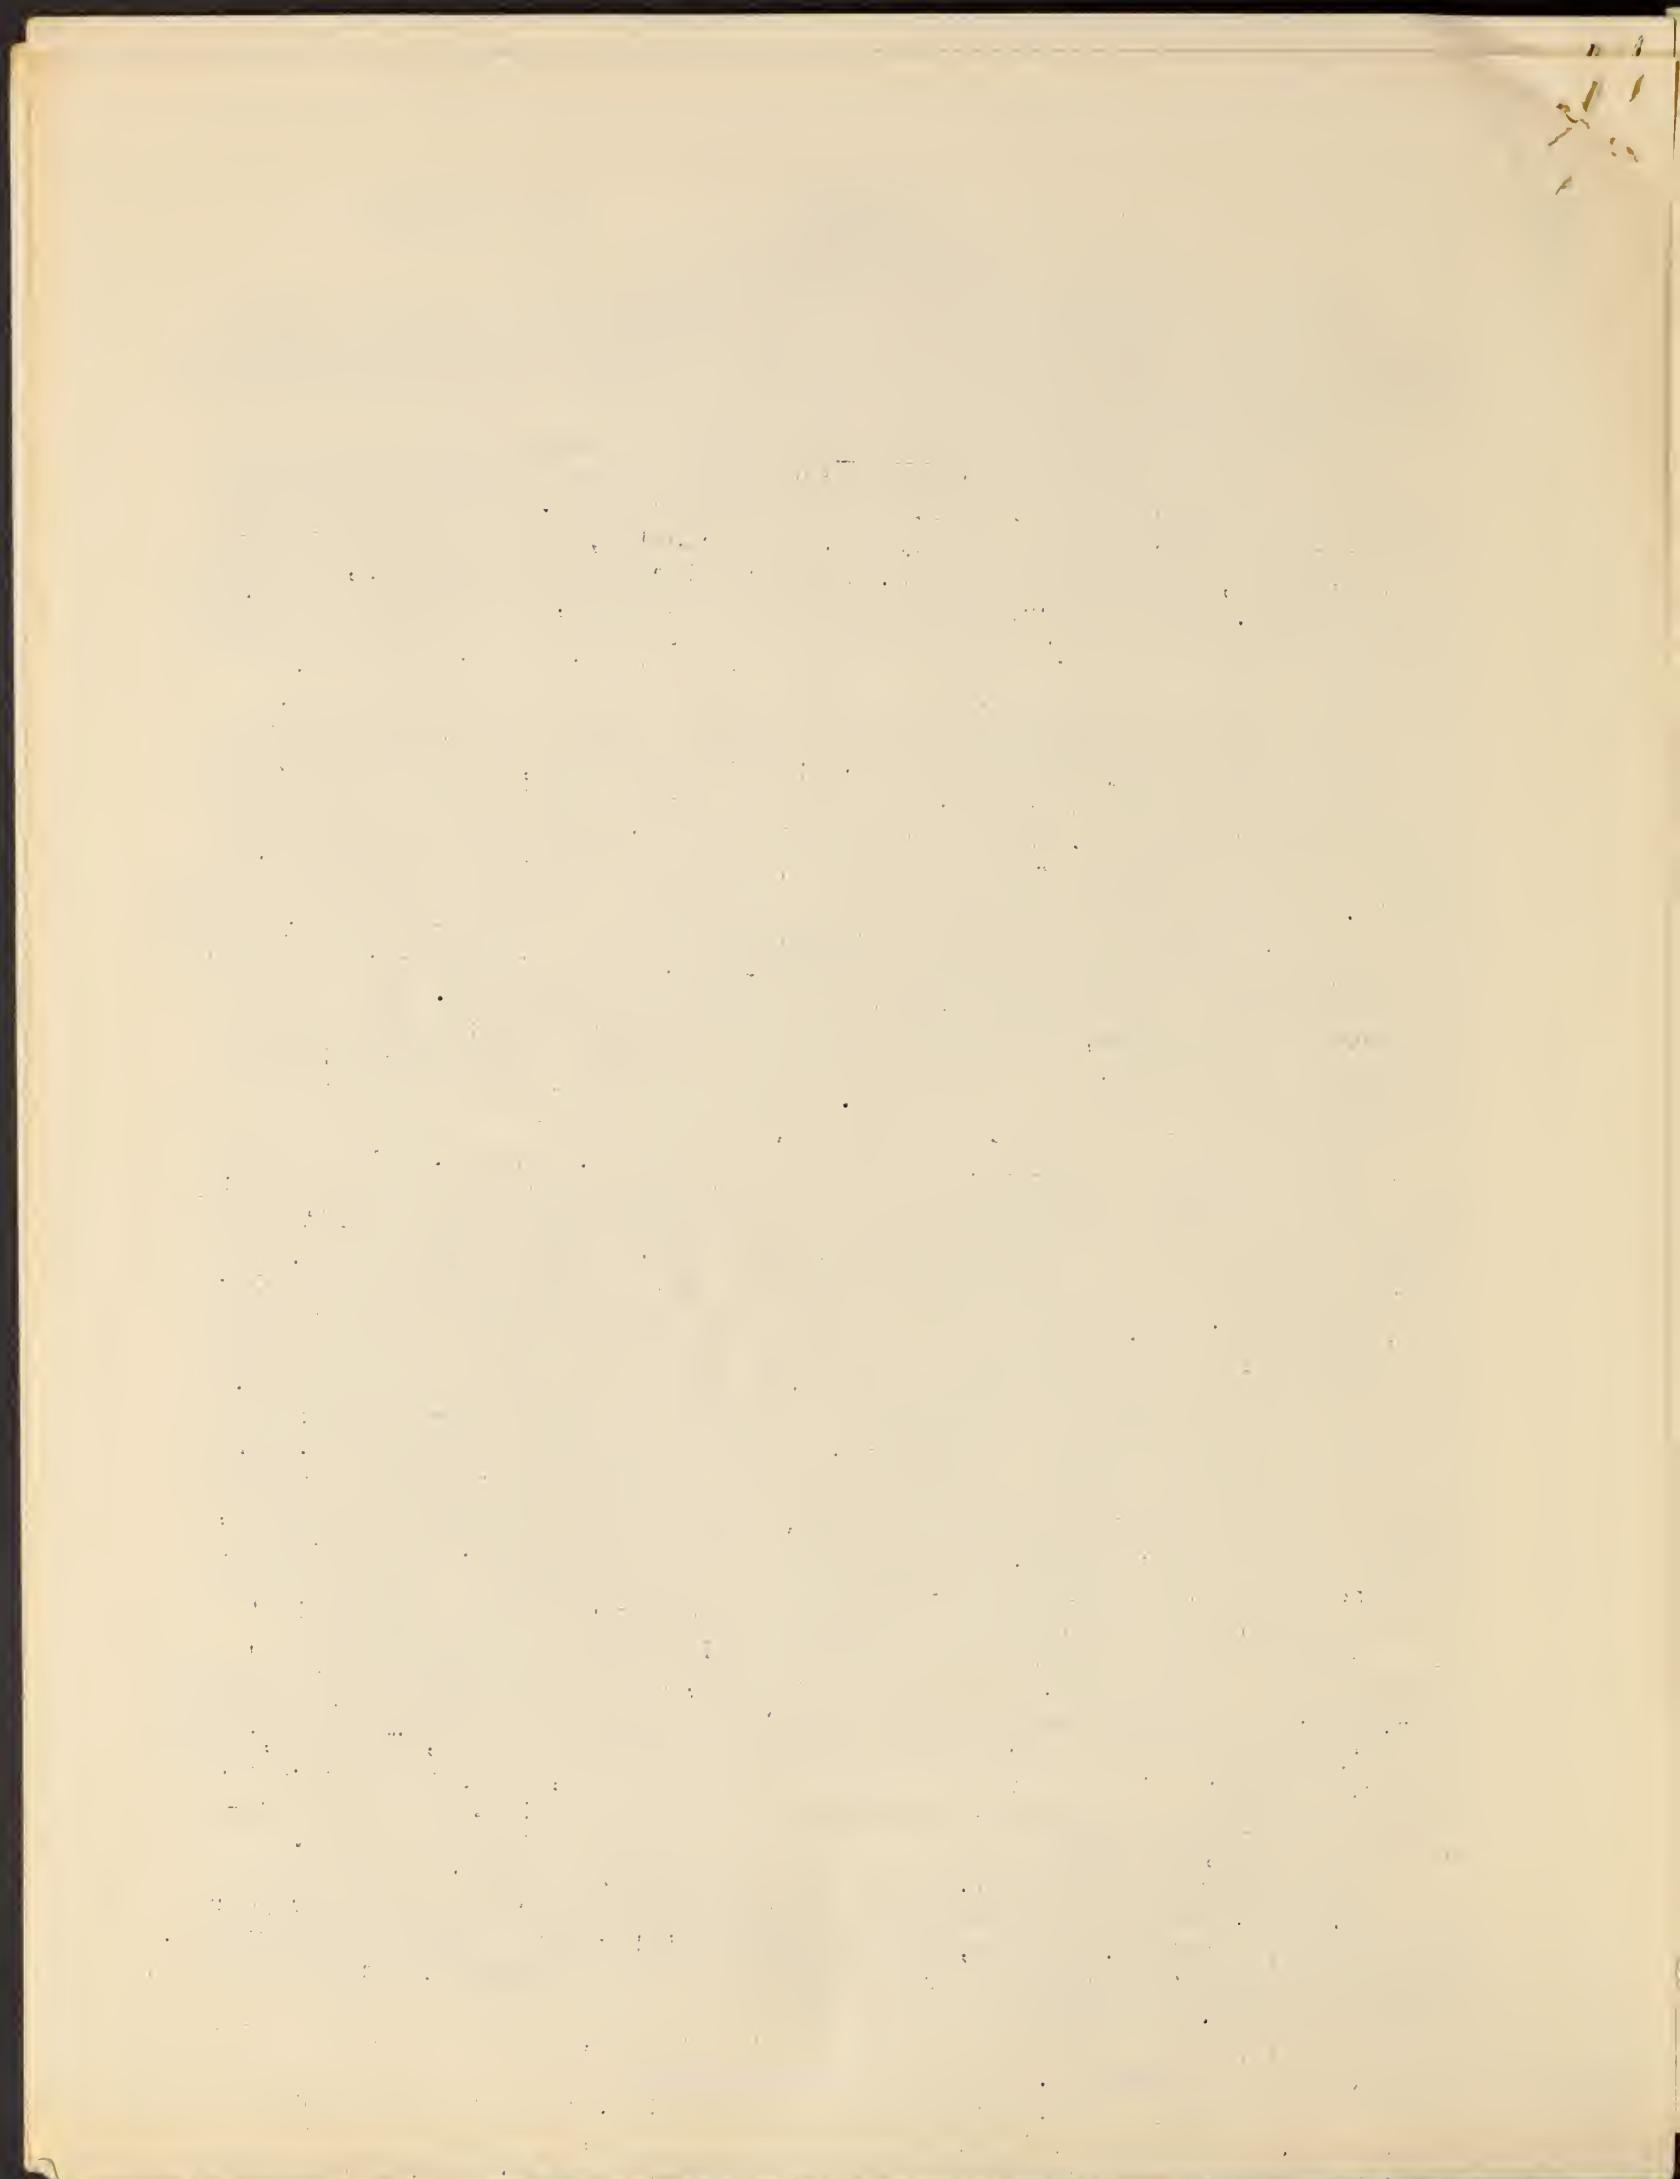

James McCollom and family undertook the journey towards Canada in 1788, with what they could conveniently move. Goods were packed on horseback; and two small children, balanced in panniers with other goods, on one horse. The eldest son, John, and a small brother Joseph, drove a few cattle through the perilous and lonely wilderness. At night, to insure safety from wild beasts, they would build a campfire, close to which they would remain, and which they dared not leave until day dawned. One night their cattle were frightened by some large, wild animals, and ran until the sound of the bell was lost in the distance. Next morning, by following in the direction the cattle had gone, they were recovered again. On another occasion, John, then in his sixteenth year, nearly lost his valued rifle, on which he depended for safety, through cupidity of an Indian, who came up to their camp with the words, "Me swap," replacing it with his dilapidated musket. John sprang quickly and struck the Indian a heavy blow on the neck that laid him out for awhile. John then recovered his gun, and the Indian was contented to depart with his musket.

After a variety of thrilling adventures the family were reunited at Genesee, N. Y., where they remained for a time, and then continued their journey into Canada, settling, finally, near where the village of Smithville now stands. James McCollom obtained a good tract of land and remained on it, with his family, until his death.

The entry of Crown Lands was gozettet at Niagara, on page 111, of a list, dated on the margin, 1797.

John McCollom, the eldest son of James McCollom, was born in the State of New Jersey, January 30th, 1773, and he and his sister, Sarah, had the great misfortune to lose their mother when both were quite young. They were removed with their father's family to Cheery Valley, N. Y., and thence ultimately to Canada, as already mentioned.

The Switzer Family

On a spring morning in the year 1760, a remarkable group of persons were assembled on the Custom House Quay in the ancient city of Limerick, Ireland. They were evidently about to leave their mother country for a life beyond the sea. How came this group of emigrants to be leaving the shores of Ireland? It was to improve their worldly circumstances. They were of German origin and had been driven by war and persecution from the Palatinate on the Rhine and found a home in Ireland in the reign of good Queen Anne. Here they had lived for three generations and continued to use the German language. John Wesley often preached in their homes. In the good protestant soil of those hearts, the seed of Methodism was early sown, and brought forth its natural fruit of good living. When John Wesley in 1758 passed through Ireland, he records that such a settlement could hardly elsewhere be found in either Ireland or England. The vessel leaving contained Philip Embury and wife, Paul Heck and his wife Barbara, the Fuckles, Peter Switzer and wife and family. They landed in New York August 10th, 1760. Here the Switzer family remained for some years. During this time the first Methodist sermon was preached by Philip Embury, a carpenter and local preacher. His wife Mary, (known as the beautiful Mary Switzer), was a sister of Peter Switzer. Philip Embury afterwards built a church on old John St., N.Y, with his own hands and preached the Dedicatory Sermon. By so doing, he became the father of Methodism in the U.S. of America.

In 1770, Peter Switzer moved with his family to Salem, Washington Co., N.Y, where Philip Embury died from an injury received while at work in his field at the early age of forty five.

On the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, these loyal Palatinates, whose forefathers had enjoyed a refuge under the British flag, would not share the revolt against the mother country of the American colonies. Peter Switzer was the father of six daughters and three sons. The three sons emigrated to Canada at different periods. Philip, the eldest, soon after the close of the war came to Canada and settled in the Township of Camden. John, in the Township of Lborough, where some of their descendants still live, and Christopher, the youngest son, with his family of three sons and two daughters, settled in the Township of Ernesttown in 1807. On his farm the well-known Switzerville Chapel was built in 1826, and the first Ordination Service held in Canada was held in this church in 1828. Christopher Switzer was an efficient and popular exhorter and class leader in the Methodist Church for years. His three sons, Elijah, John G. and Martin R. were agriculturists and owned farms within a short distance of the church. In politics they were Independent Liberals, in religion staunch Methodists and early advocates and supporters of the cause of temperance. They were men of original thought and energy. Elijah

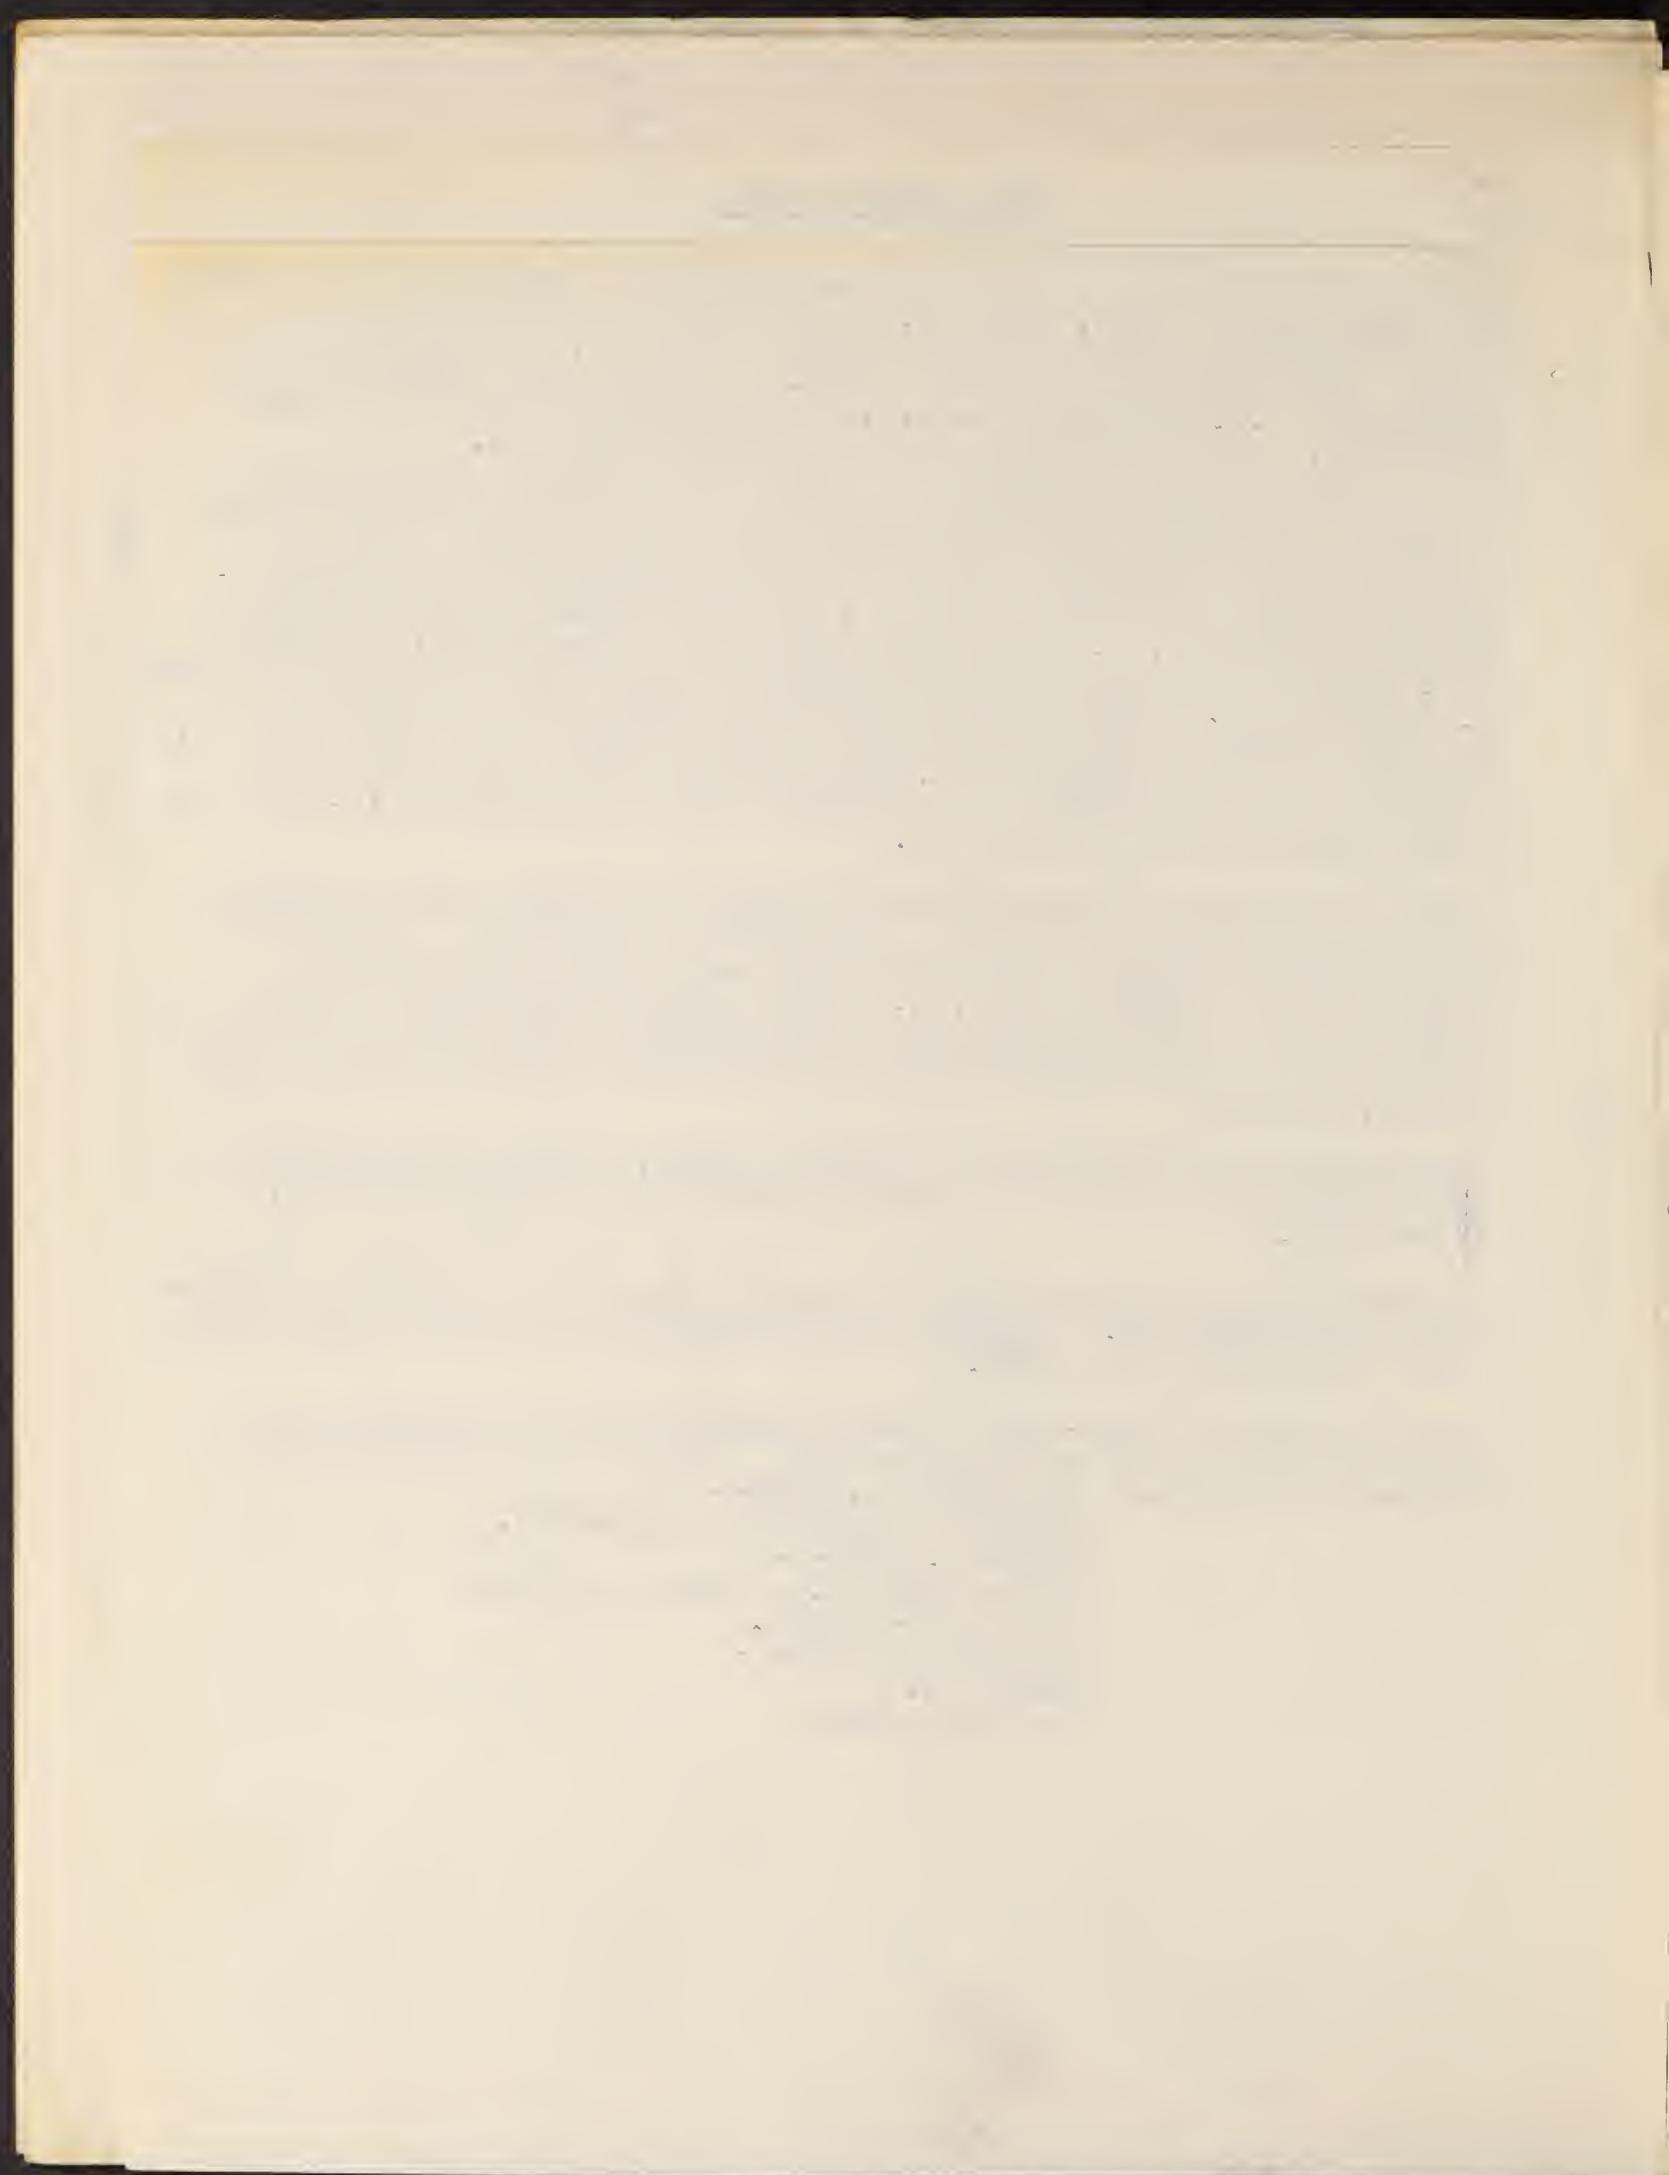

Switzer was Justice of the Peace and Recording Steward in the church for over thirty years. John G. at the time of his death, was a class leader of great acceptability. Martin R. was an honoured and useful local preacher for many years. He left three sons and one daughter: E.B. Switzer, Dr. E.R. Switzer, Wilbur F. Switzer and Elizabeth. Elijah reared a family of eight children. John G. Switzer left a family of four sons: Anson, Christopher, William and Robert, and three daughters. Eliza who married Walter Wartman; Maria, who married Charles Willard Huffman; Ora, who married Perry Williams. All of three have passed to their reward. Among the grandchildren are: E.E. Switzer and Mrs. Geo. Grange, London, Ont.; Mrs. O.L. Herring, Montreal; Mrs. Knight, Napanee; Mrs. Samuel Bell, San Jose, California; Dr. Robert Huffman, Valhalla, N. Dakota; Mrs. Edward Kayler and Mrs. Sheldon Joyce, Napanee; Mrs. Leo Pocock, Stanton, Alberta; John Switzer, Edmonton, Alberta; John Huffman, J. Dakota; C.W. Huffman, Winnipeg; Mrs. Reycroft, Winnipeg; Harry Switzer, a prominent laywer in Camden, NJ. J. and Dr. Bert Switzer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some of the great-grandchildren of John G. Switzer are: Reginald and Gerald Herring, Montreal; Percy Joyce, Hamilton; Zina and Dwight Joyce, Toronto, and Sperry Joyce, St. Mary's, Ontario; Muriel Joyce, Napanee; Mrs. W. Earle Darner, Vancouver; Claude Myrtle and Ora Knight, Napanee; Carlton and Bernice Kayler, Calgary, Alberta; Wray and Fullerton Kayler, Napanee; Mrs. J. Lewis, Goff, Valeur, Montana.

Conrad Huffman married Jane Shibley in 1804. They had 12 children, all born at Bath and one of these children was Charles Willard, 1825- 1878.

Charles Willard Huffman married Deborah Sarah Maria Switzer in 1850. They had 9 children. One son was named Charles Willard. They lived where the Withers now live.

John G. Switzer (1798-1868) married Lelpha Hix (I am not sure of her last name as writing is peculiar) (1804-). They had the following children: Philander S. 1825-- Deborah Sarah Maria 1828-1897.

SWITZER.

Switzers were Palatine Germans who emigrated to England in 1709-10, to avoid further involvement in wars between the German States and France, as well as to avoid high taxes and religious persecution. They, with other families--Detlors, Emburys, Hills, Geiers, etc.,--were settled on lands near Limerick, Ireland. A few generations later, in 1760, Peter Switzer and family emigrated to New York. In 1770 they removed to Camden, in Northern New York, on the present Vermont border. Here the family remained until about 1802, when they removed to Ernesttown Township.

Philip, Peter's eldest son, was the only member of the family to become a U. E. Loyalist. According to military records he was born in 1759, in America. If this is true, then the generally accepted year of emigration from Ireland is not correct. His age in a roll of Capt. Sherwoods Company of the Loyal Rangers ~~is given~~ of 17 Feb., 1782, is given as 23 and his height as 5 feet ten inches.

Philip Switzer was nineteen years of age when, in the spring of 1777, he joined Col. John Peters' Queen's Loyal Rangers. His name appears in the official ration list of that regiment from 25 June to 24 October, 1777. He was with his regiment at the battle of Bennington, where the Loyalists were defeated and where so many of his comrades were killed or captured.

Philip must have returned to his home after the defeat of General Burgoyne in October, 1777, for his name appears in a list of prisoners sent from Poughkeepsie, New York, to Albany, New York, on 23 April 1778. On the 23rd of May, following, he was brought before the Board which dealt with conspiracies against the State and was allowed to return home after signing bail of £ 100, with his father, Peter Switzer, his surety in the same amount.

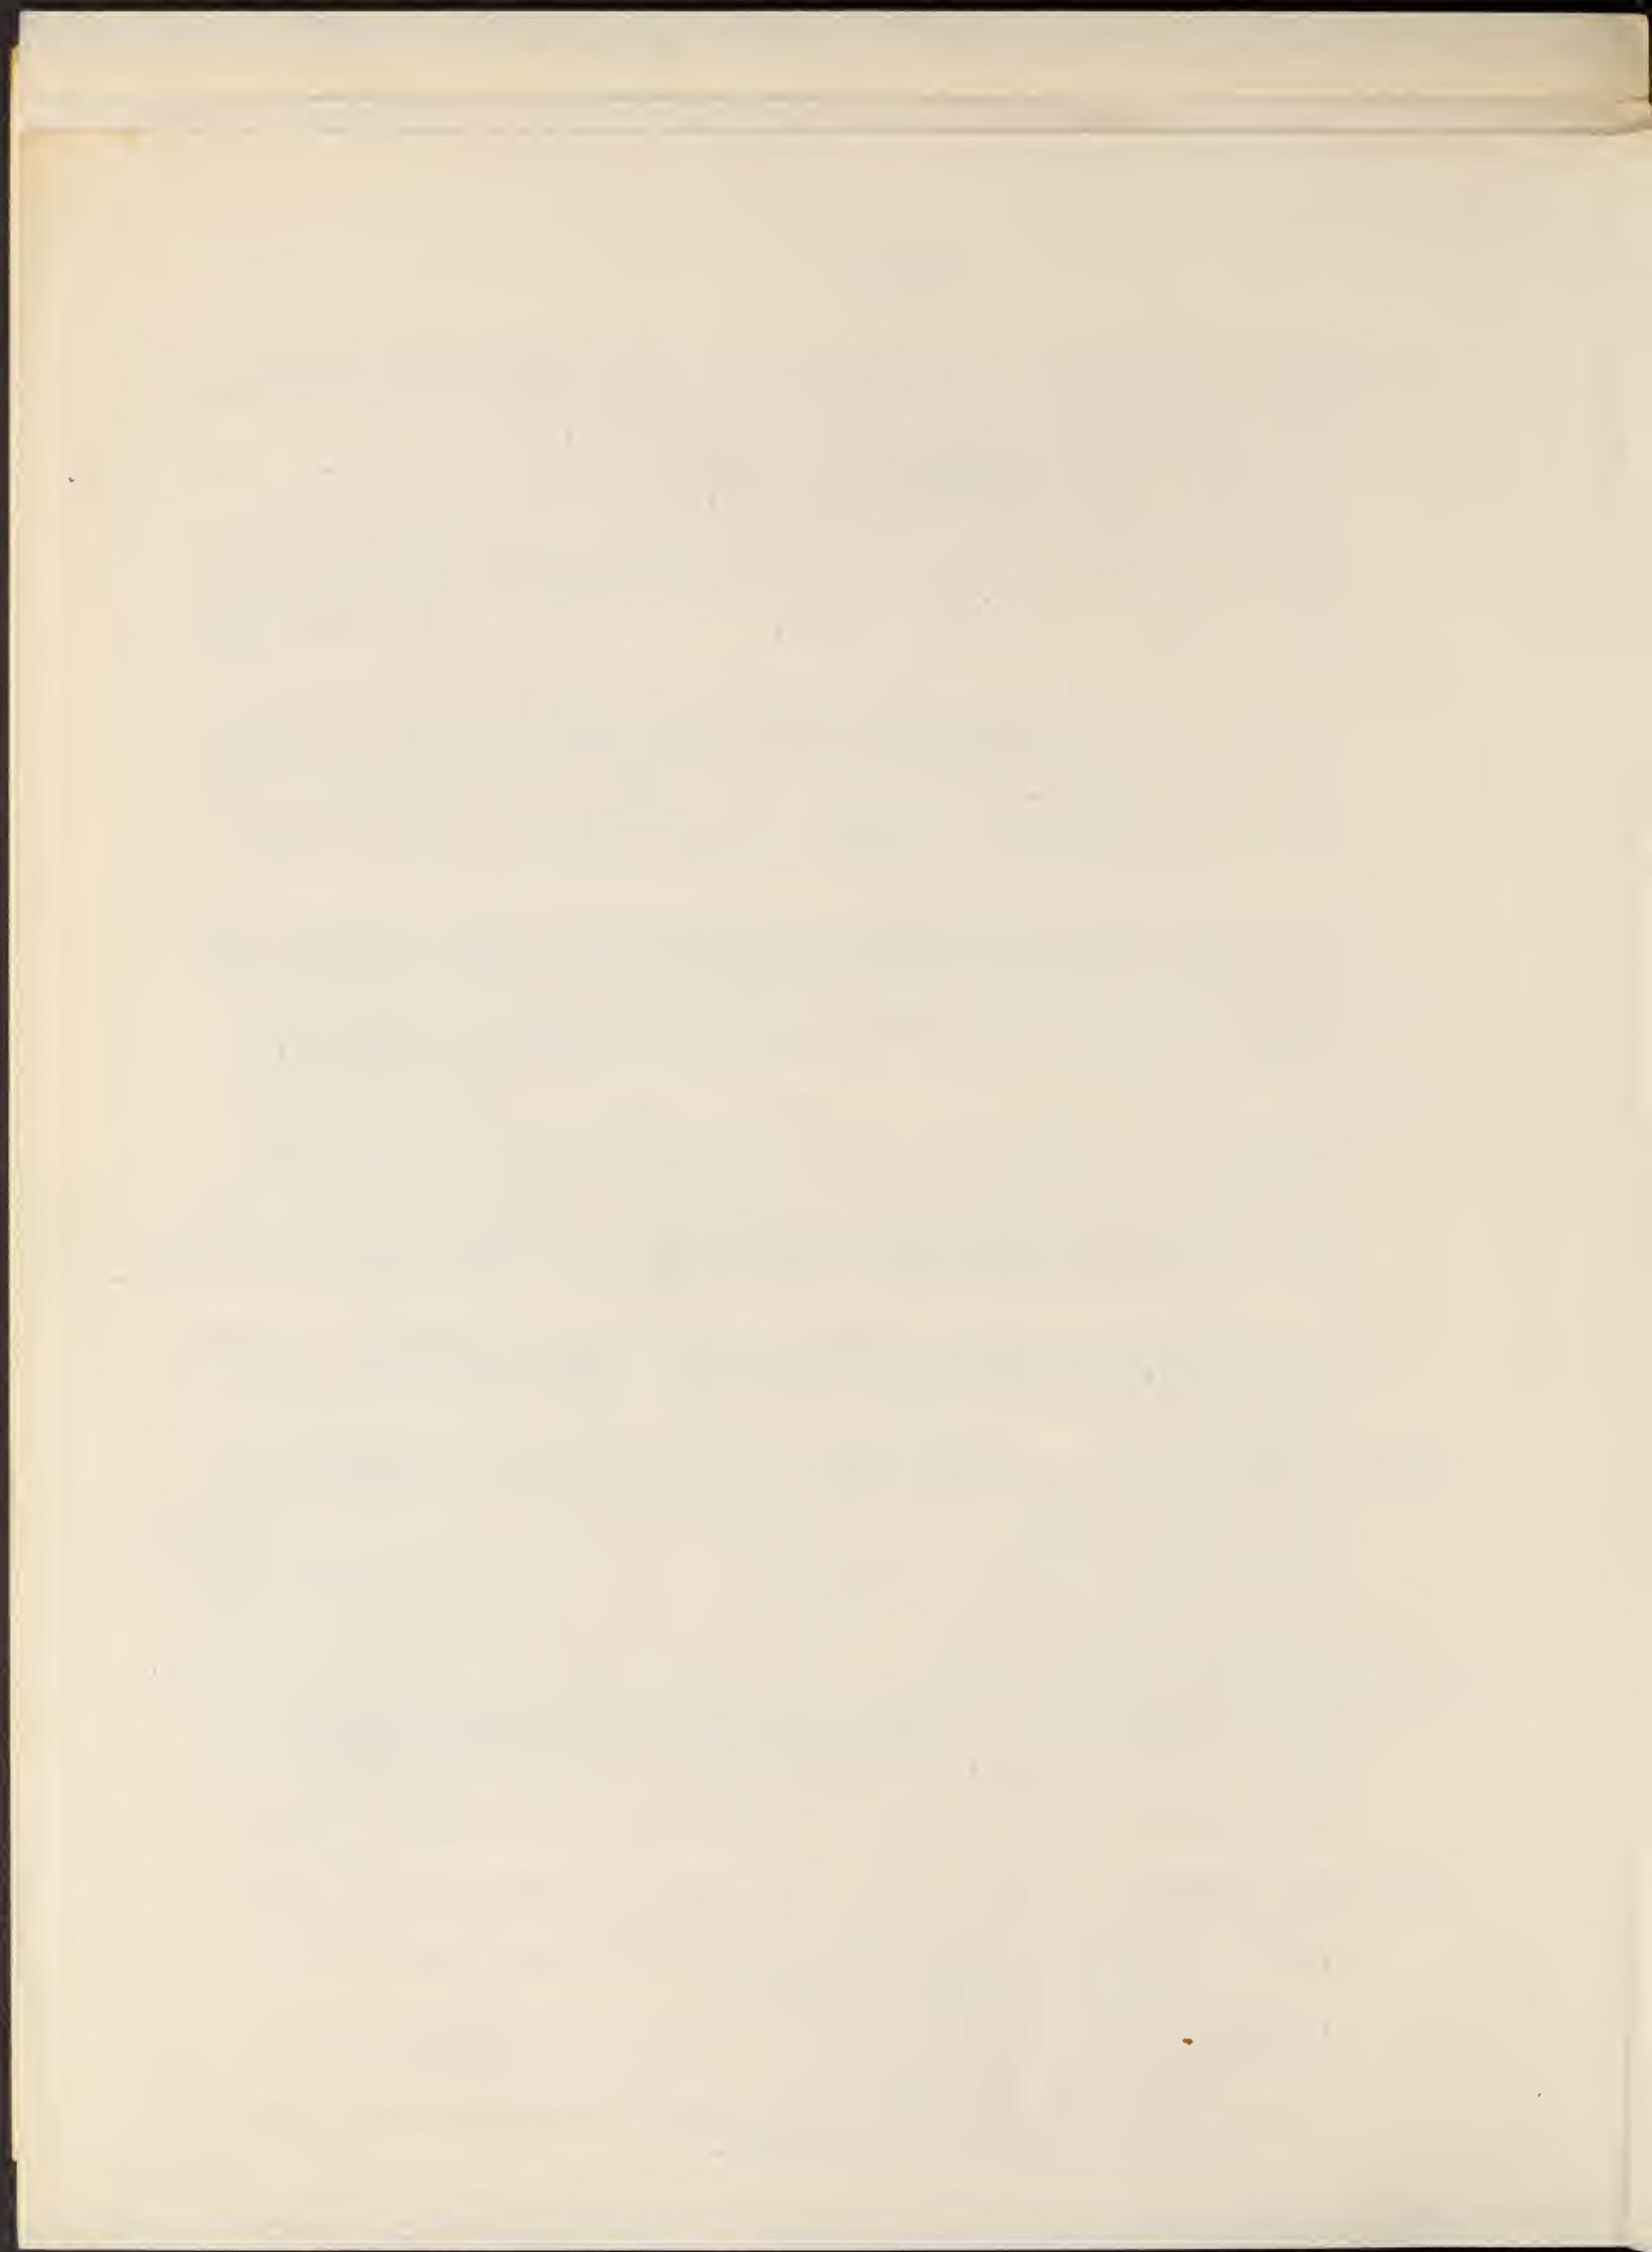

Philip eventually re-enlisted in October, 1780, and was in Montreal in December of that year. His name is found in a list of Captain Sherwood's Company of the Loyal Rangers in Jan., 1782 and in Feb., 1783. On the latter list he is called Corporal.

Philip Switzer married in January, 1784, in Montreal, Patience, daughter of Matthias Rose, likewise a Loyalist and one of the first settlers in Ernesttown Township. Philip and his bride came to Ernesttown with the first Loyalist settlers in June, 1784. The muster roll of this township in Oct., 1784 shows an infant son, likely one of the first in the summer of 1784.

In the original drawing of lands in Ernesttown Township Philip Switzer drew the east half of three lots--lot 3 in the first, second and fourth concessions. Between 1784 and 1798, when the first crown deeds were issued in the Township, Philip must have traded or sold these lots, as his name does not appear in this township. It is likely that he drew additional lands in Camden, as each Loyalist was entitled to 50 acres for each child. In any event, Philip became one of the earliest settlers in Camden township.

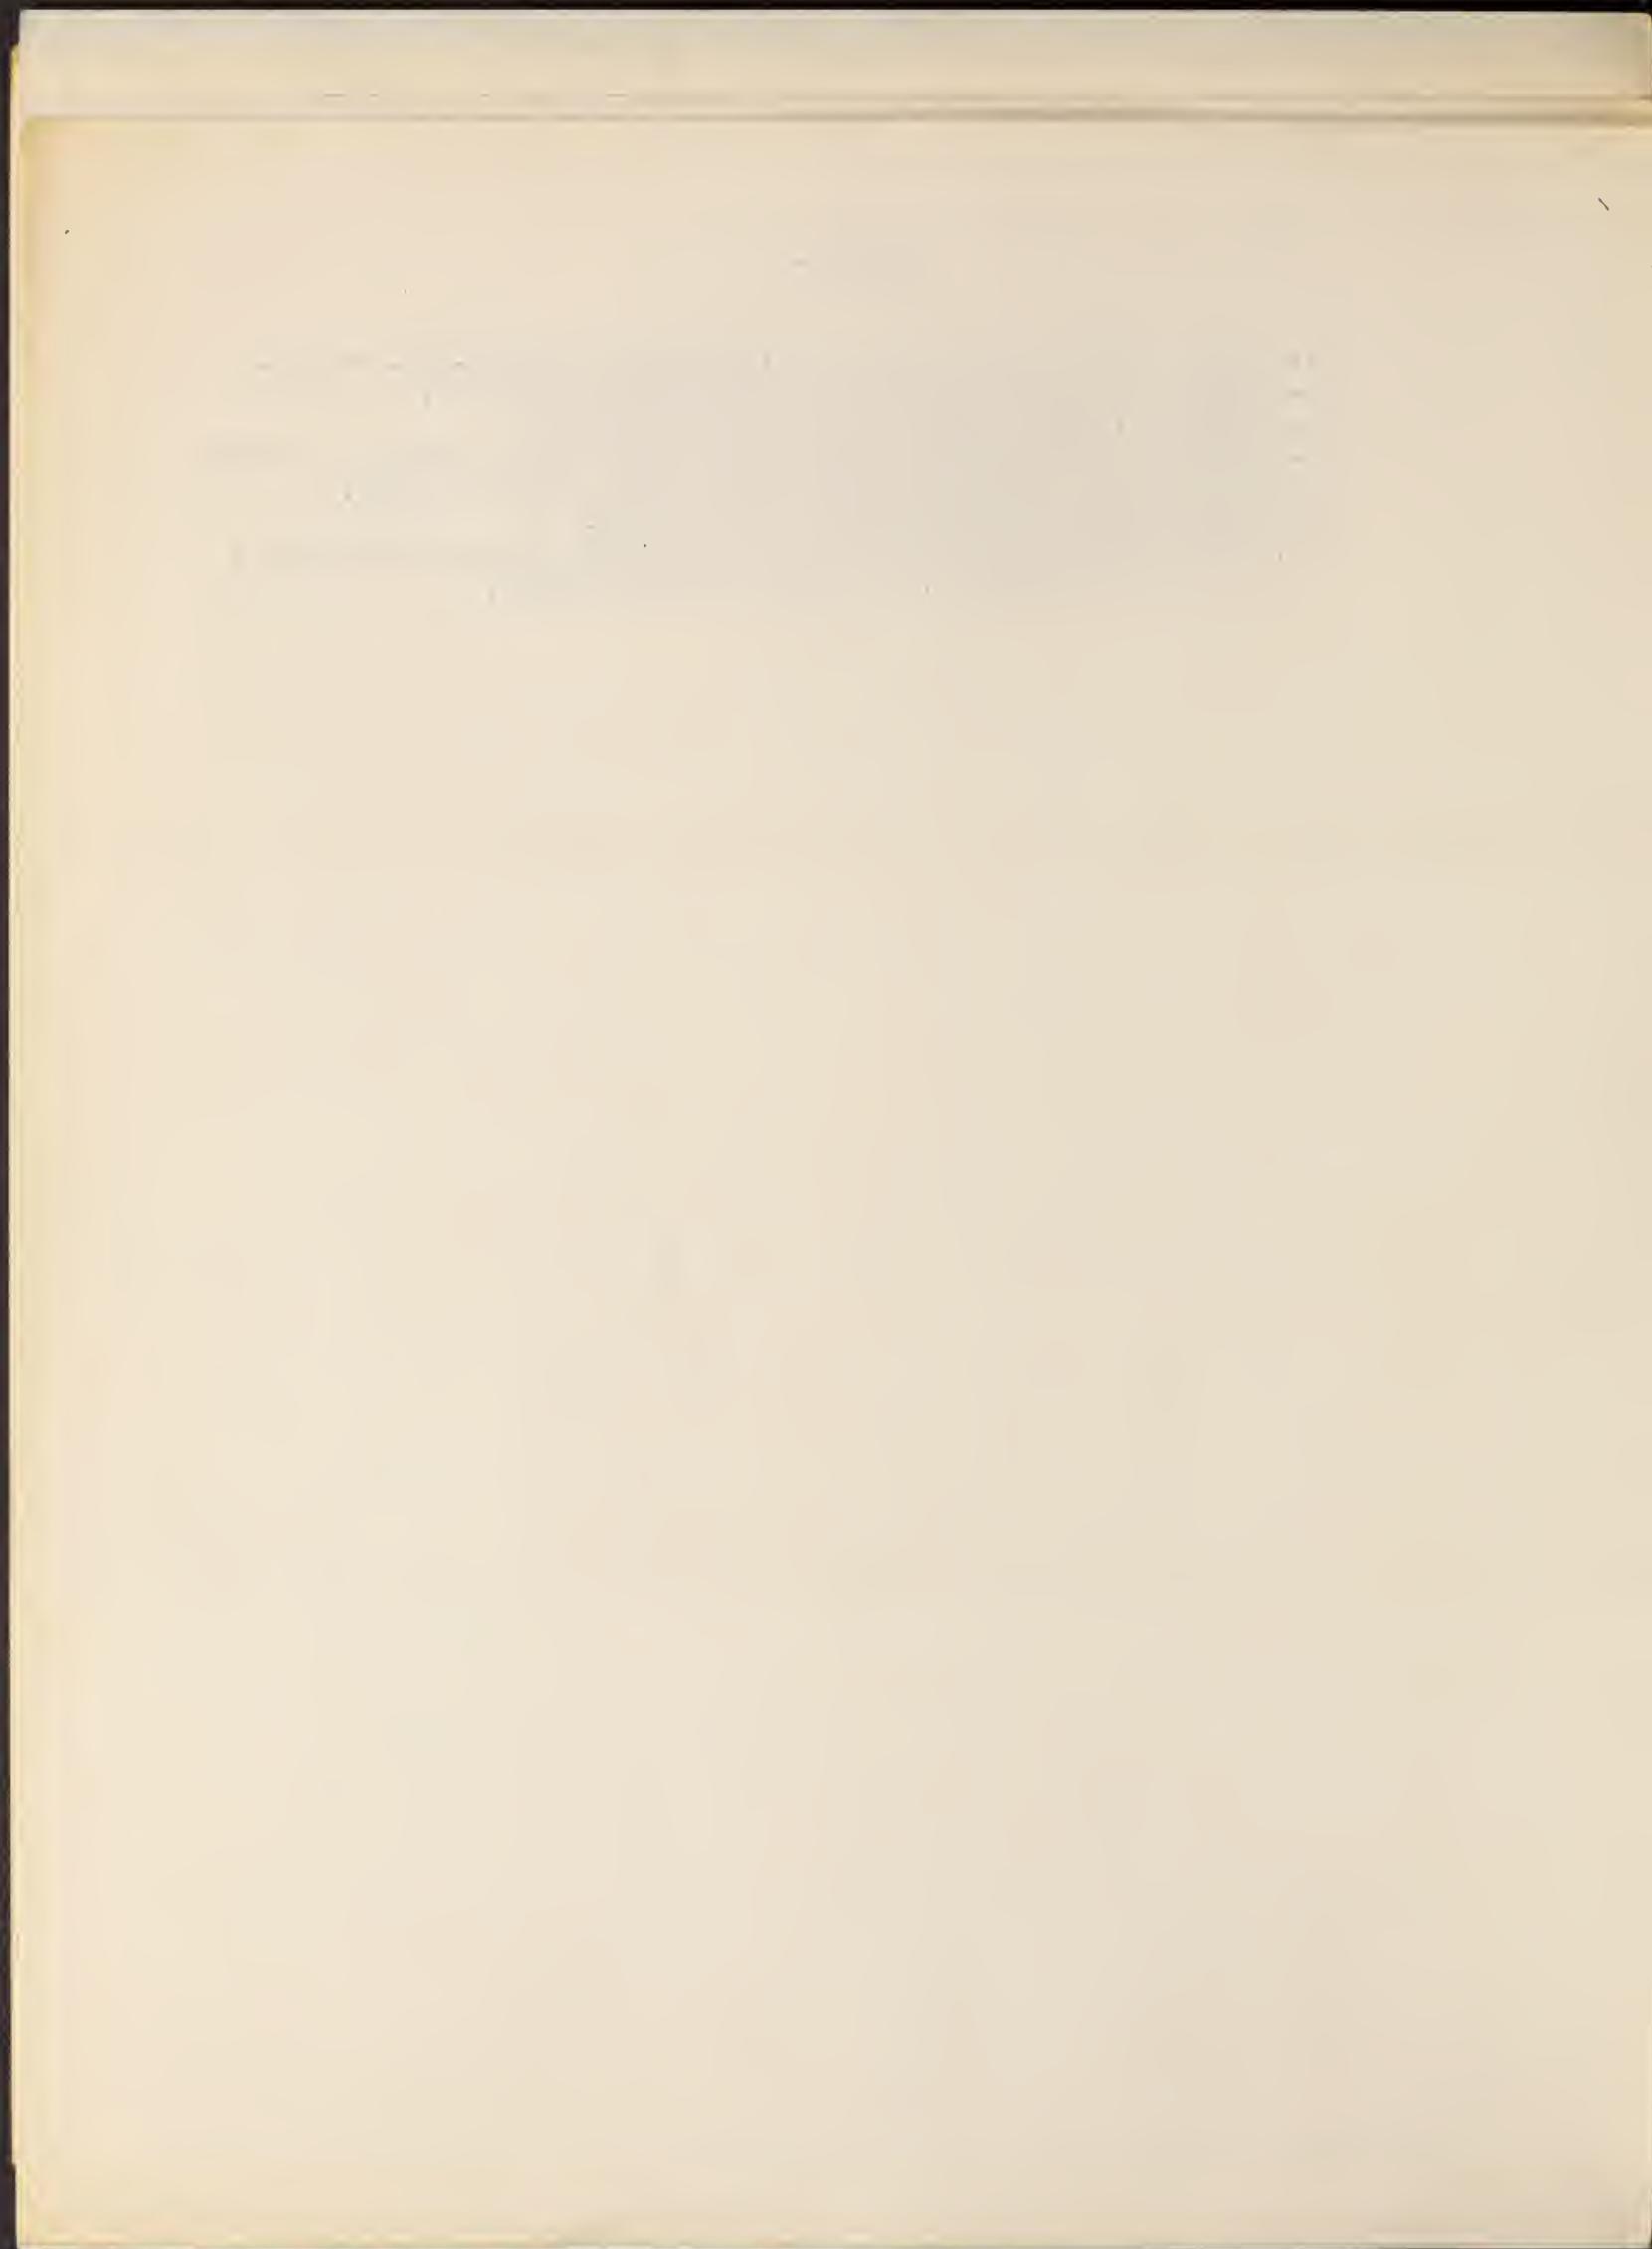

Philip and Patience were parents of a large family, all born in this County. As far as is known, the following is a true list:

1. Peter, likely born Sept., 1784, named for his grandfather Switzer.
Settled in Marysburgh Township.
2. John, settled in Marysburgh.
3. Matthias, born about June, 1789, named for his Grandfather Rose.
Settled in Marysburgh.
4. Christopher, born about Dec., 1790, named for his Uncle Christopher Switzer. Settled in Marysburgh.

SWITZER.

5. Norris, born about Sept., 1792. Settled in Camden. Bur. Moscow.
6. Philip, born about July, 1794; apparently died young.
7. Samuel G., born about 1796; settled in Camden.
8. Sarah A. M., born about May, 1801; married Ernest Drader, of Camden.
9. Jane, born about June, 1804; married Amos Card, of Camden.
10. David, born about 1806; settled in Camden.
11. Daniel Rose, born about 1808; named for his Uncle Daniel Rose, a U. E. Loyalist. He settled in Camden East.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

Have you anything to prove or disprove that the Jacob Miller who subscribed to the second Methodist Church in Upper Canada, at Ernesttown in 1792, was a brother of Peter Miller of Camden Valley? Peter did have a brother Jacob (and Garrett). Jacob applied for land in Camden Valley, but seems to have been disappointed in it and went to Nova Scotia, perhaps before the War. And there was another Jacob Miller from Germany, who had lived in Tryone County and settled on the Bay of Quinte. He seems to have gone to Camden East, Ontario, in 1822 and he married a Baker, from the Southwell estate in Ireland where these Palatine families had lived. So the two Jacobs may well have been related.

I have the references to Jacob Miller from Haldimand, and he was often with Carscallens and others from Camden Valley. The man who went to Halifax became wealthy, and as far as I know, remained there. Tucker says he went before the Revolutionary War, but there are some errors in Tucker's book, The Palatine Millers.

Peter Switzer. On 29 August 1958 you wrote me that he came to America in 1760. I know now that this is an error. I have some letters written by Embury, Heck and Sparling from Camden Valley to Duane, their landlord. In one, written by Philip Embury in January 1773 he says, "My Brother-in-Law Just come to me from Ireland...." Later in the same letter he says "...my Bro. in law Peter Sweitser".

I am also trying to establish the parents of Peter and Margaret Switzer Embury. You once told me her father was Jacob. I read the records at Rathkeale when I was there this summer. One of these is a birth for Margaret Switzer dau. Christopher and Elizabeth, May 16, 1743. This is the right year for Margaret. But the only Peter Switzer listed was son of Martin and Barbara, and born in 1746; this man (or another Peter) married Catherine Teskey in 1772. My Peter Switzer married Anna Maria Guier, and since he had several children (according to P. Embury's letter to Duane) when he arrived in America, could hardly be the one listed as son of Martin. Anyway, it seems certain Margaret Switzer had a brother Peter. Where did you get the birth date of 1736 for Peter Switzer, which you once sent me?

The other day I had a 'phone call from Hollywood from young Hank Jones! (He is only 22.) He has since sent me data he dug up in Ireland through researchers, and is being very cordial. He is working on a complete genealogy of the Irish Palatines. And I am now writing my book as a study of a group or colony--in Ireland, New York Province and Upper Canada, with flashbacks to Germany and New York. I am only bringing in details about individuals as they contribute to the story or characterizations. So if he asks again for anything on individuals, let him have it, if you wish.

My trip took me to England, Ireland, Scotland, Orkney, and Germany, and was very worthwhile. This in spite of three crazy accidents I had to my right foot. I spent three months on crutches, and another six weeks having hospital therapy, after the bones had deteriorated from lack of use, and I'd been warned I'd have a stiff leg for life, if I didn't settle down to some extensive therapy. Can you imagine a holiday on crutches?! I trust you are both well. Sincerely, Karen C. Lipp.

PETER SWITZER

THE SWITZER FAMILY

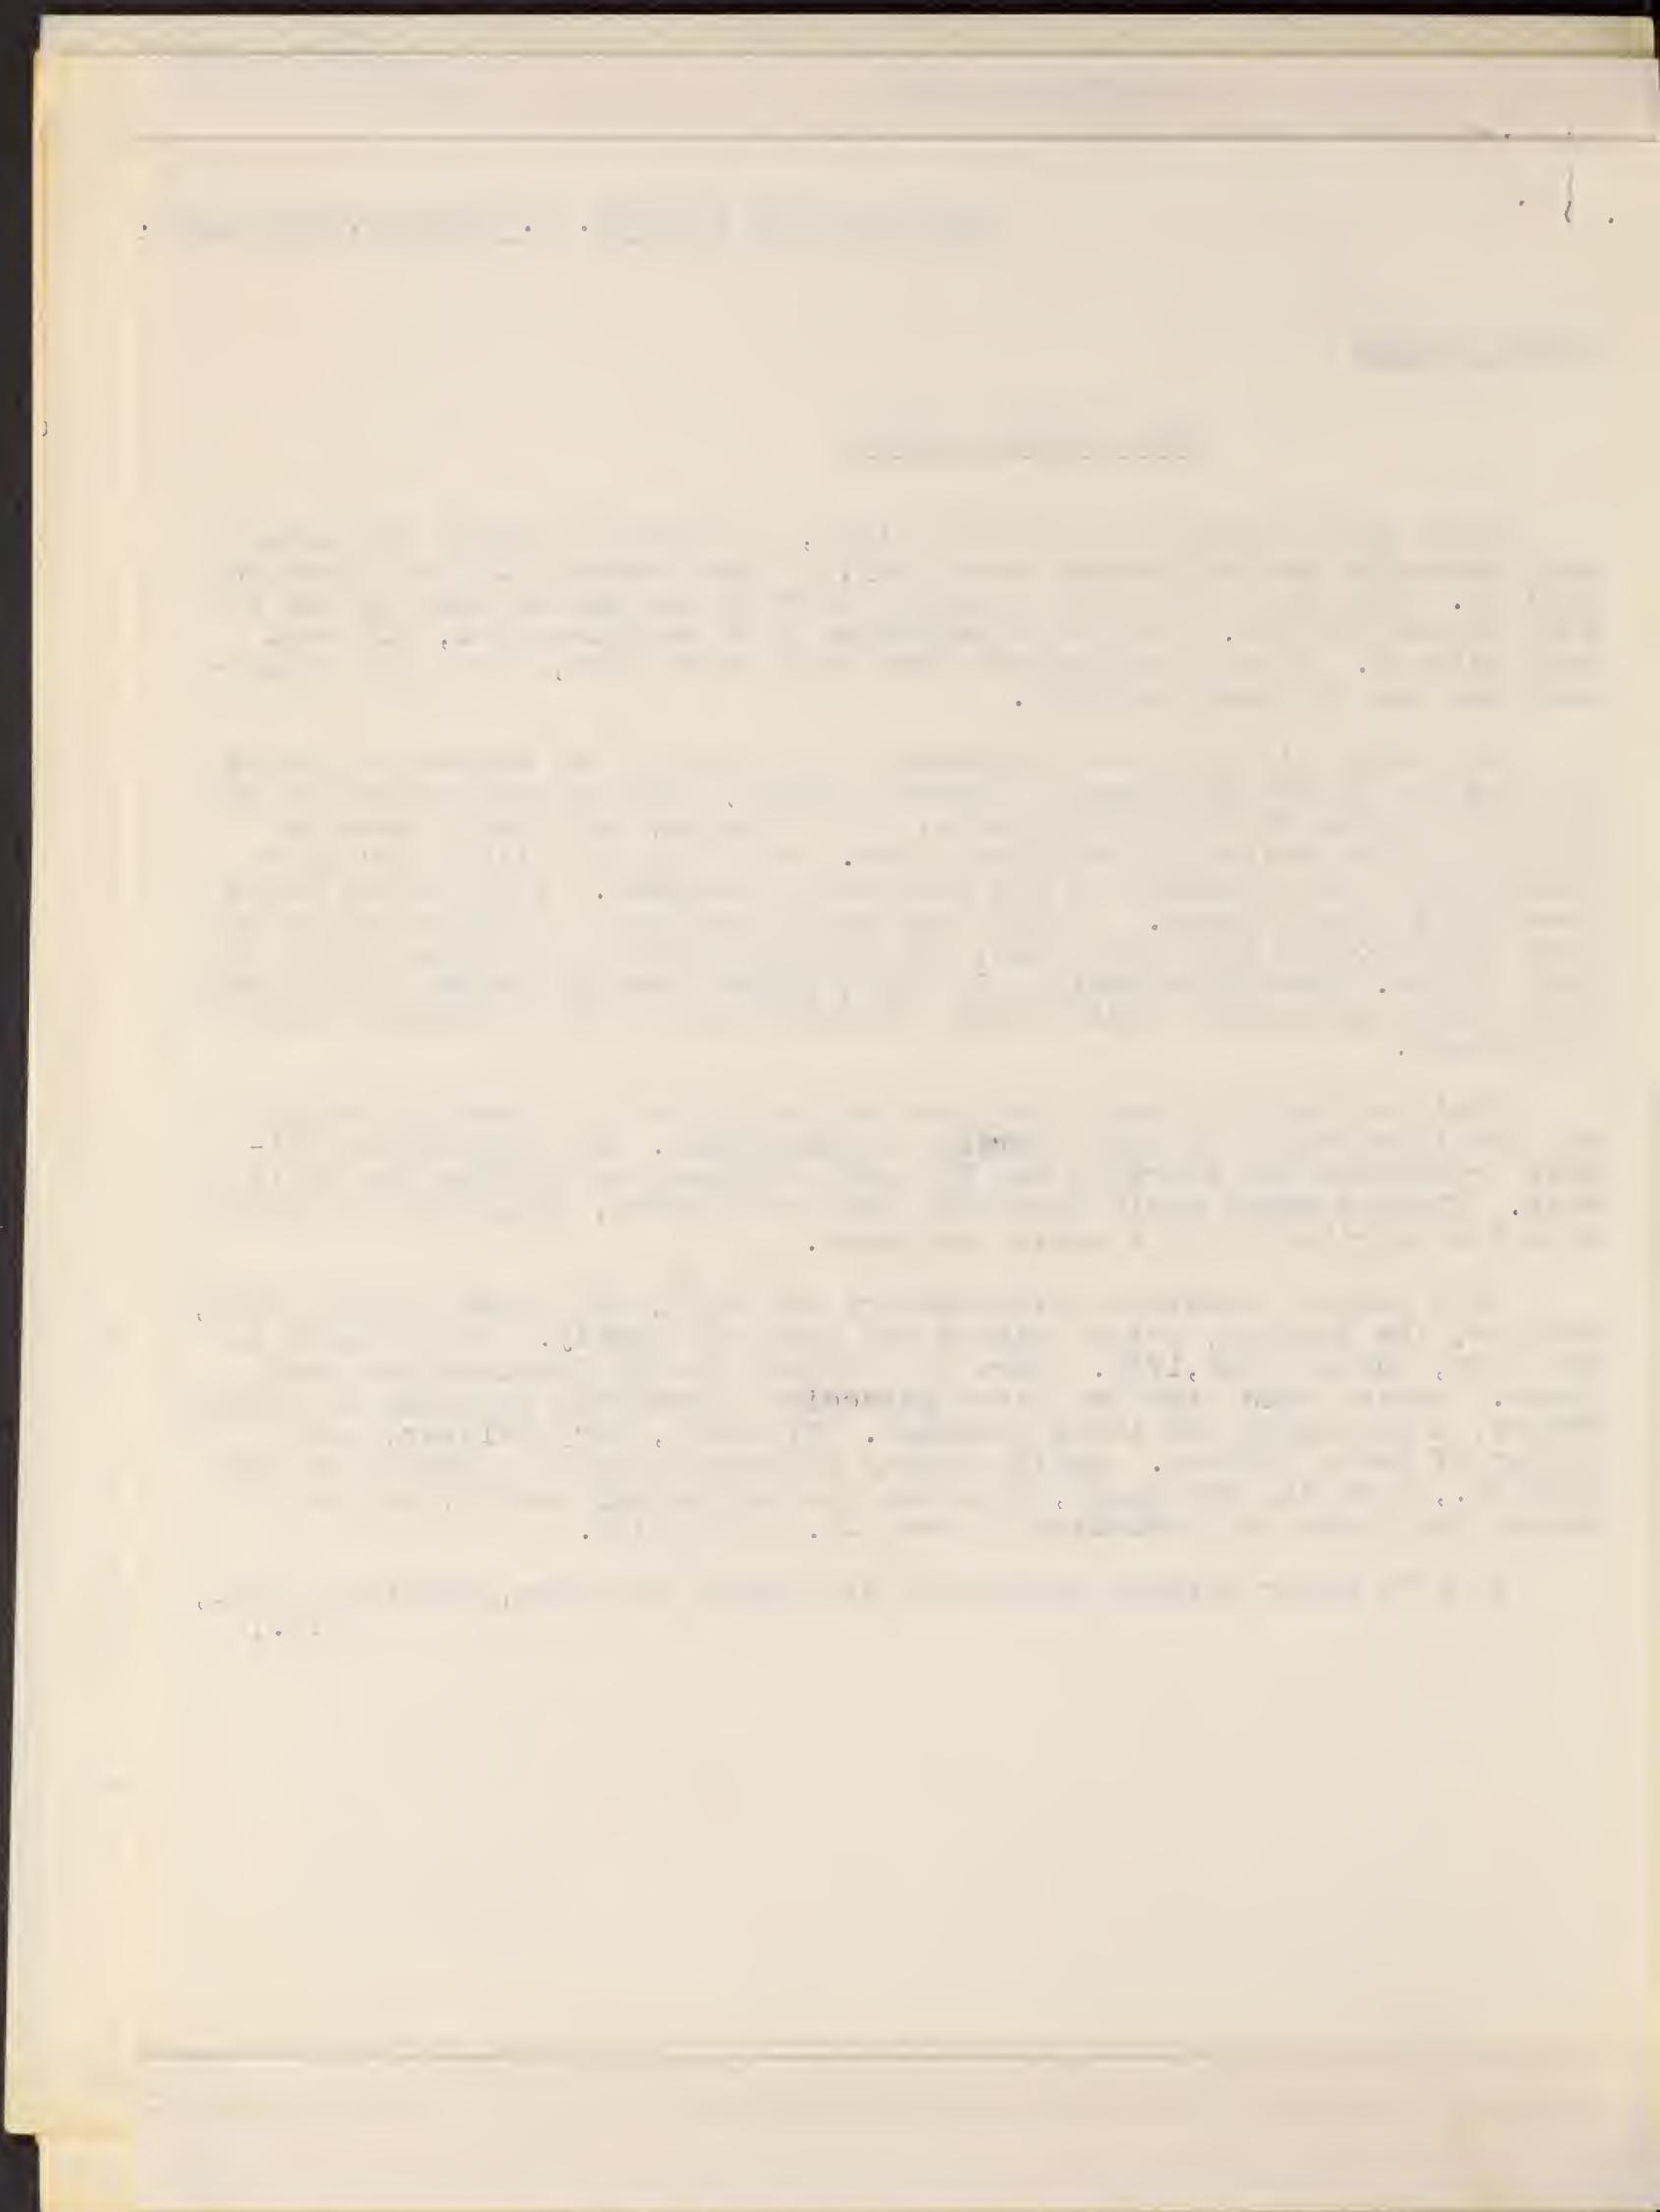

On a spring morning in the year 1760, a remarkable group of persons were assembled on the Custom House quay, in the ancient city of Limerick, Ireland. They were evidently about to leave their mother country for a land beyond the sea. They were emigrants of a superior sort, all were well attired. It was not poverty from which they fled, for their appearance was one of respectability.

How came this group of emigrants to be leaving the shores of Ireland for the New World? They were of German origin, and had been driven by war and persecution from the Palatinate, on the Rhine, and from a home in Ireland in the reign of good Queen Anne. Here they had lived for three generations and continued to use the German language. John Wesley often preached in their homes. In the good protestant soil of those hearts the seed of Methodism was early sown, and brought forth its natural fruit of good living. When John Wesley, in 1758, passed through Ireland he records that such a settlement could hardly elsewhere be found in either Ireland or England.

Their ostensible reason for leaving the shores of dear old Ireland was the improvement of their wordly circumstances. But God in his all-wise Providence was carrying out His own purposes and guiding the frail bark. Those earnest souls bore with them the leaven, which was to leaven with its spiritual life a whole continent.

This vessel contained Philip Embury and wife, Paul Heck and his wife, Barbara, the Ruckles, Peter Switzer and wife and family. They landed in New York, August 10th, 1760. Here the Switzer family remained for some years. During this time the first Methodist sermon was preached by Philip Embury, a carpenter and local preacher. His wife, Mary Switzer, was a sister of Peter Switzer. Philip Embury afterwards built a church on old John St., with his own hands, preached the dedicatory sermon, and so became the father of Methodism in the U.S. of America.

by E. E. Switzer.

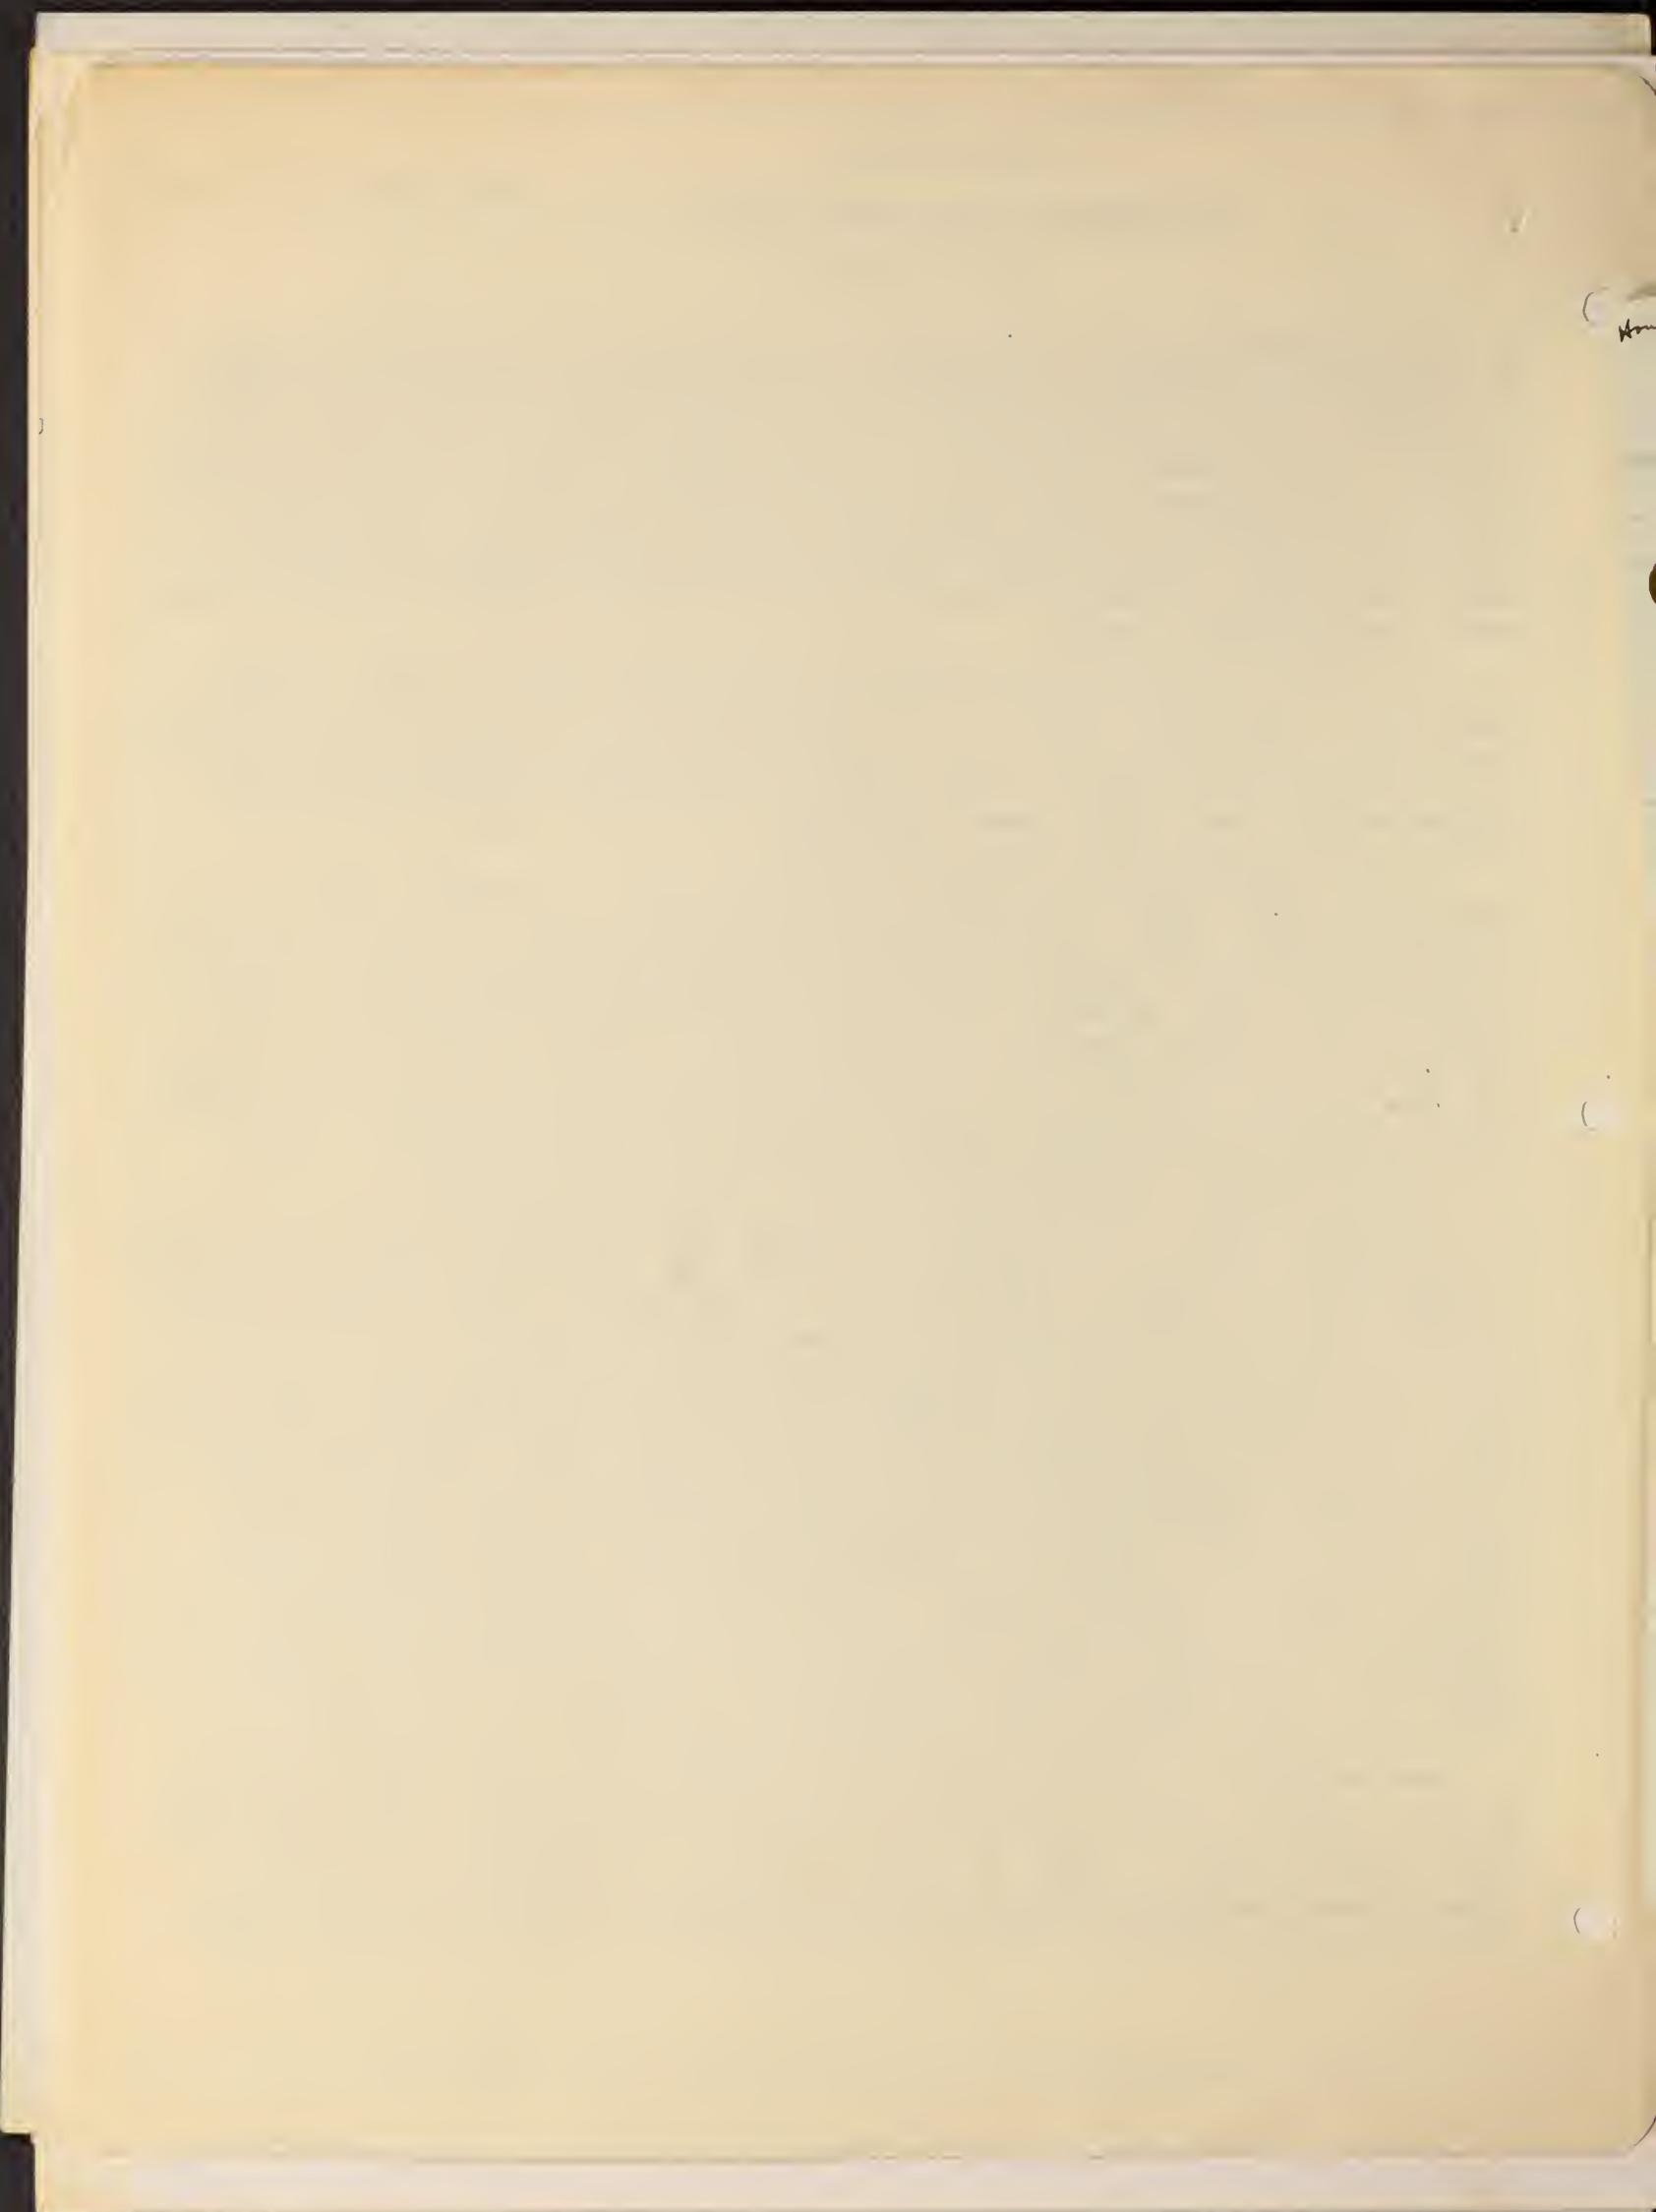

The Switzers came from Germany. They were driven from the Palatine on the Rhine by the persecuting bigotry of Louis XIV., in the seventeenth century, and emigrated to Ireland, under the auspices of the British Government, and settled in the county of Limerick, in the reign of Queen Anne. They received grants of land for each person, for which the Government paid the rent for twenty years. In company with the Switzers were the Emburys, Hecks, Ruckles, and others. They were called the Irish Palatines. In the good Protestant soil of their hearts the seed of Methodism was early sown. When John Wesley passed through Ireland in 1758, preaching day and night, he records that such a settlement could hardly elsewhere be found in either Ireland or England. (Withrow's "Barbara Heck," page 20)

In 1760, Peter Switzer, in company with Philip Embury and Paul Heck, emigrated to the United States and settled in New York, August 10th, where the family remained some years, during which time the first Methodist sermon was preached by Philip Embury, whose wife, Mary Switzer, was a sister of Peter Switzer. The congregation was composed of four persons--Paul Heck, his wife, Barbara; John Lawrence (his hired man), and an African servant, named Betty. These were formed into a class, and thus the germ of Methodism was planted on the American continent.

In 1770, Peter Switzer moved with his family to Salem, Washington county, N. Y., where Philip Embury died at the early age of forty-five. On the outbreak of the Revolutionary War these loyal Palatines, whose forefathers had enjoyed a refuge under the British flag, would not share the revolt of the American colonies against the Mother Country. Some of them removed to Lower Canada. Peter Switzer and his family of three sons and five daughters remained in New York State for some years after the close of the War in 1783. His daughter, Mrs. Mary Empey, went over and brought them to Canada, and they resided with her in her home in Ernesttown. Peter Switzer and his wife lived to be over eighty years of age. They were buried in the fourth Concession burying-ground in 1816; this church being one of the first erected in Canada.

Philip Switzer, Peter Switzer's eldest son, came to Canada soon after the close of the war and settled in the township of Camden. John Switzer, his second son, settled in Loughborough, where their descendants still reside. Christopher, the youngest son, emigrated with his family of three sons and two daughters and settled in the township of Ernesttown in 1807. On his farm the well-known Switzer's Church was built in 1826, and the first conference and ordination service in Canada was held in this church in 1828. Christopher was an efficient and popular exhorter and class-leader in the Methodist Church for many years. He received an injury from a fall, which resulted in death after a few hours of great suffering, but they were hours also of peace and triumph. His two daughters married farmers by the names of Shorey and McKim, and settled in the township of Ernesttown, where many of their descendants still reside. His three sons, Elijah, John G., and Martin R., were agriculturists, and owned farms within a short distance of the Switzer Church. In politics they were liberal independents. In religion they were staunch Methodists, and early advocated and supported the cause of temperance. They occupied important positions in the church. Elijah was a recording steward for over thirty years, and a justice of the peace. John G., at the time of his death, was a class-leader of great acceptability, and Martin R. was an honored and useful local preacher for years previous to his death, which occurred May 9th, 1860.

The daughters of Elijah are still living and reside in Napanee. Three sons and a daughter survive.: Martin R., Edmund B., residing in Switzerville, Lennox County; Dr. E. R., in Salina, Kans.; Wilbur R., in Deloraine, Man; and Elizabeth, in Switzerville. John G. left a widow, four sons and three daughters. His daughters, Ora Williams, Eliza Wartman, and Maria Huffman, and a son, Christopher M., have since passed away, leaving quite large families, few of whom have settled in the native country. The on Lot 36 of the 3rd Concession of Camden in the year near 1800 there was a man by the name of Philip Switzer and a large family settled. Some of the names of his sons were Peter, Norris, Philip II, Mathias, David, Samuel and Daniel, also there were several daughters.

His son Peter stayed on the homestead. Peter's sons were Mark, Lorenzo, John Philip, (sickly or lazy Phil) he was nicknamed. Peter divided his farm into three parts for Mark, Lorenzo and John had homestead.

John married Emily Moleneux. Their sons were Sidney, James, William and Natham. There were daughters also. Lorenzo married a Miss Cook. They had two children. Julia died when a young woman. Richard married Anna Ross Bell, daughter of J. W. Bell, M. P., and died in the spring of 1911.

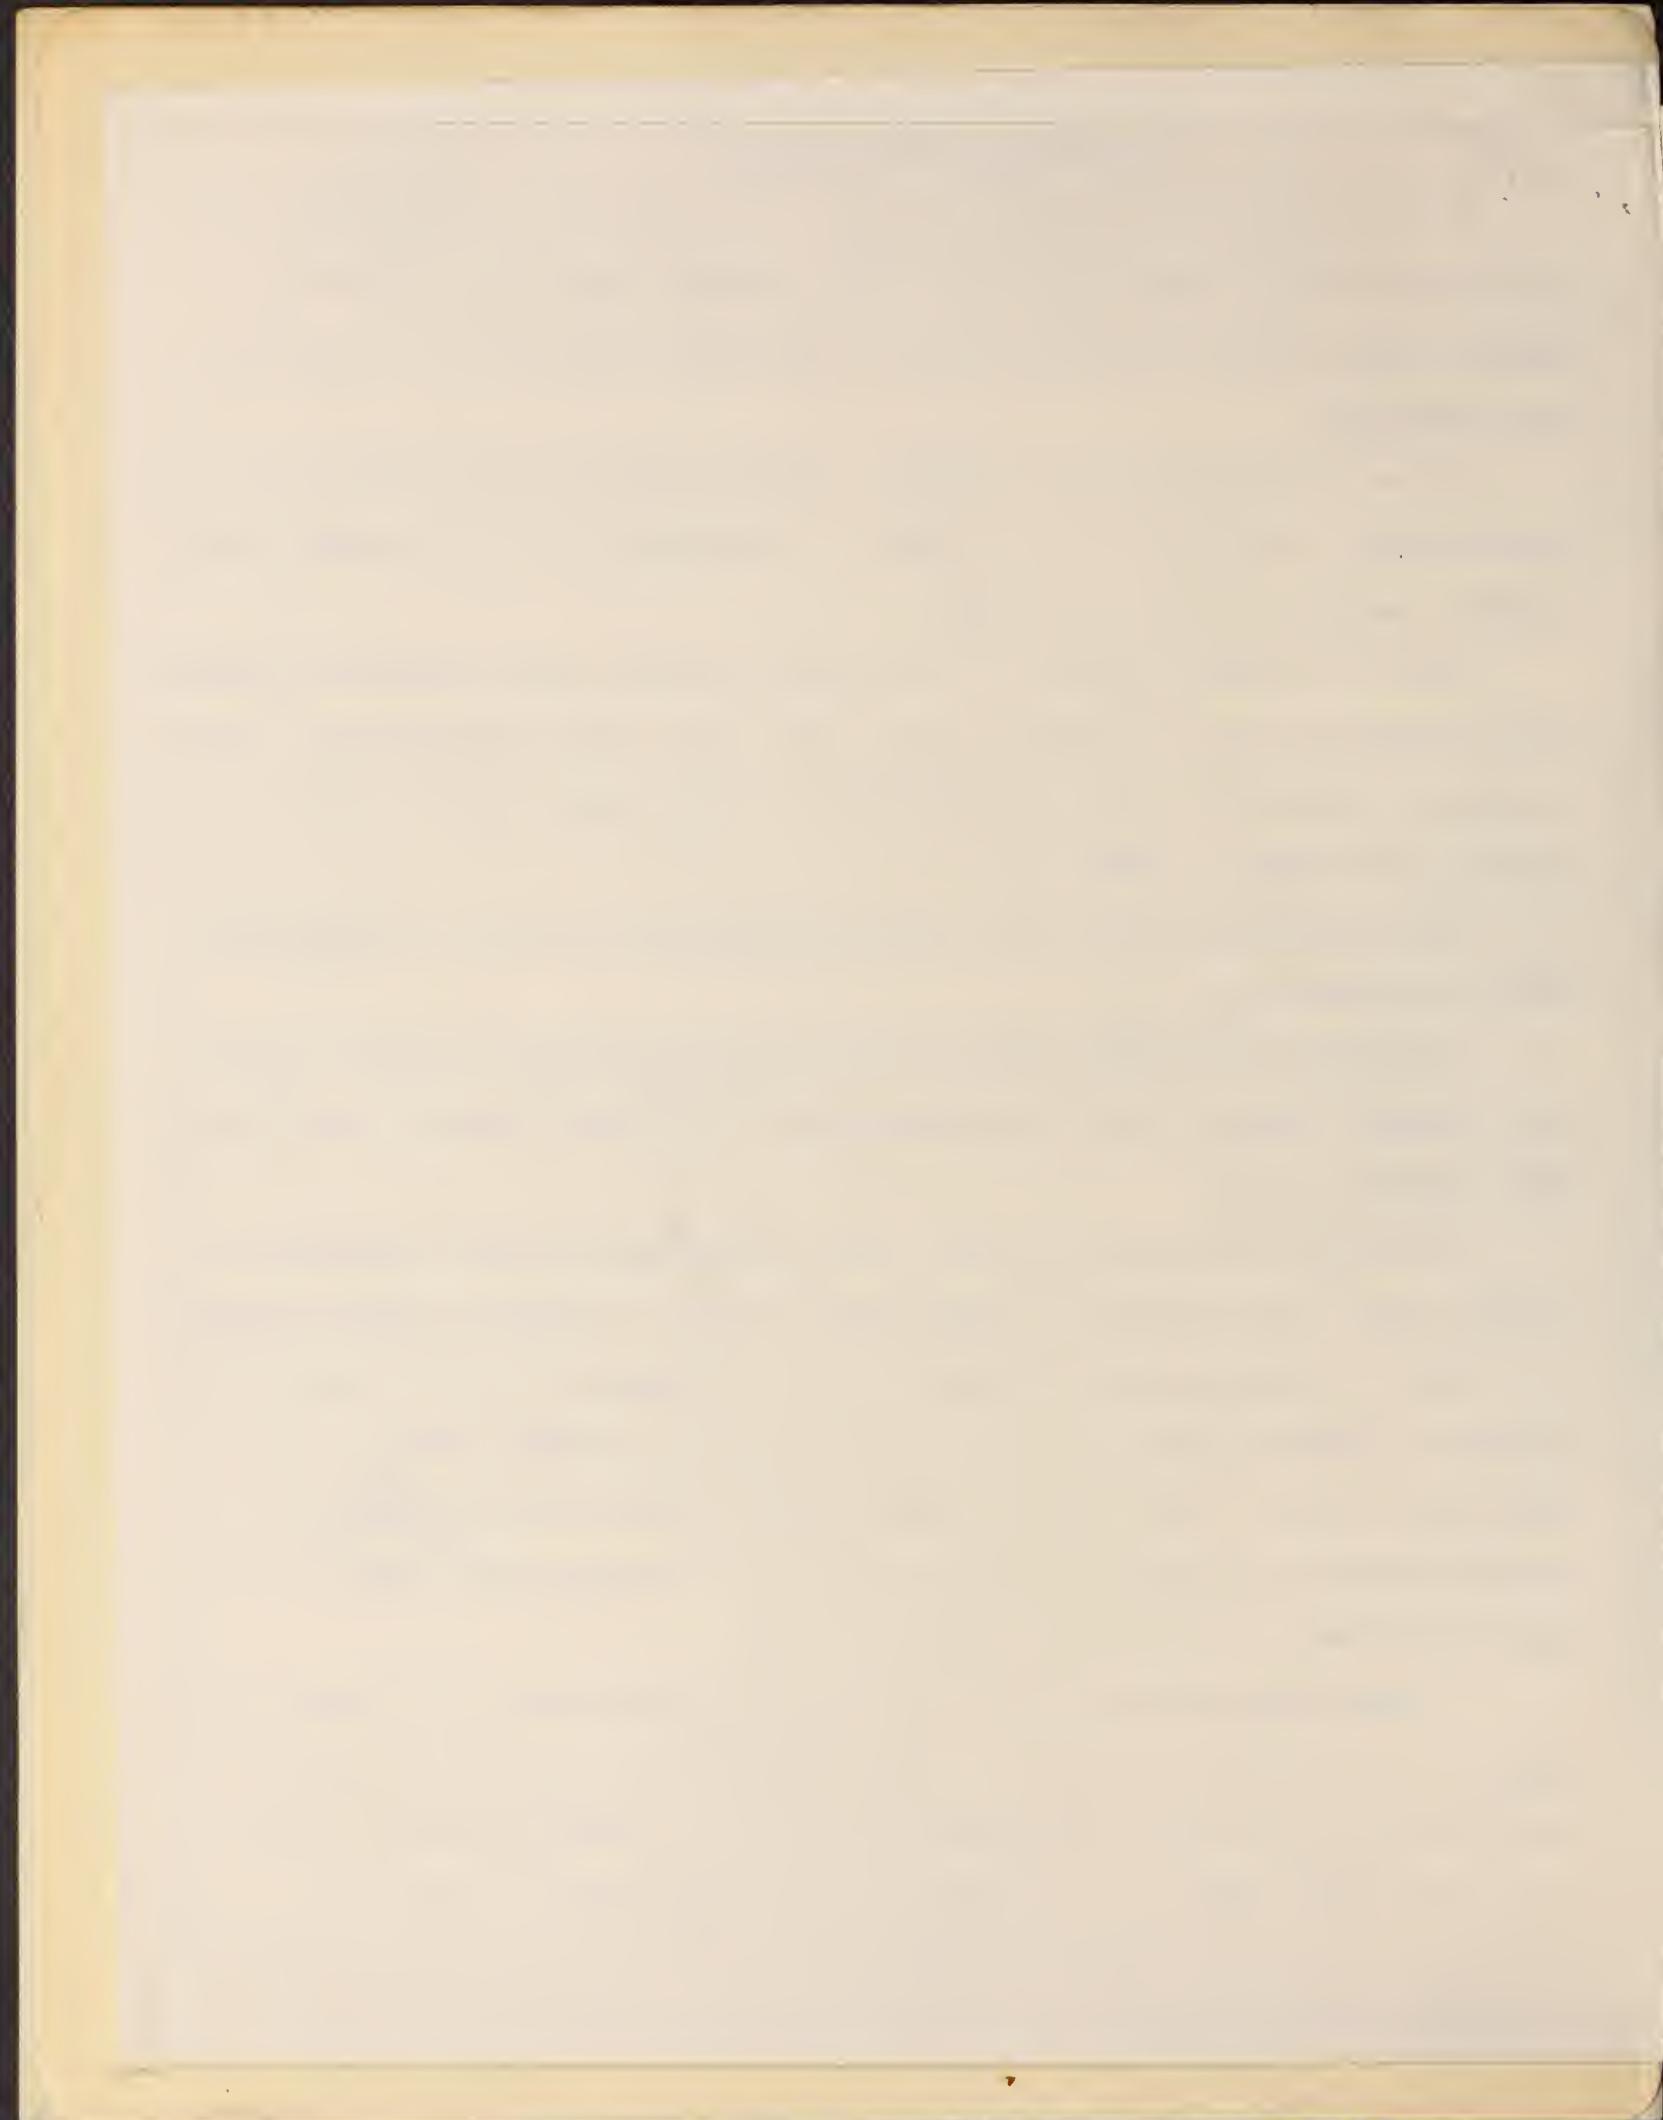

Mark married Mary Ann _____ had one daughter, Bertha who married Philander Ross as his third wife.

Sickly Phil III settled on Con. 5 along side the Patterson homestead. He had a son Sandford. There was also a son named Micah. I don't know whether he was Sandford's brother or uncle.

Philip II settled on what we know as the McKewen farm and built a stone house in early 1840's. One son Fletcher married Adeline Johnson, a daughter of Silas Jackson.

John H. married a sister of Israel Stewart, (I presume he was the father of Dr. Switzer who practised medicine in Centreville a short time in 1874.) This is all I know of this family. John H. for a few years owned the farm I call the Hannah farm. I think Philip Norris Switzer's son settled here and in mid life sold to John H. and came out to corner on Lot 33, Con. 4 below Bell hill.

Norris Switzer married a Miss Collier from the Picton Area. (The Colliers were engaged in ship building business). Norris had served in the war of 1812 aboard a war ship on the Great Lakes. He settled on Lot 34, Con. 3 Camden and build a stone house in the early forties. He had three children. James Collier, Philip and a daughter _____, who married David Bell (who was a first cousin of Horatio F. Bell - my father.) Their family were Philip Bell, Martha, (Mrs. Jeremiah Rockwood), and Sarah Jane, (Mrs. Elias Jackson), James Collier Switzer married Sarah Whattam and their family consisted of four children — James Nelson, 1847; Mary Ellen, 1851; Philip Jonas, 1856; and Nettie who died in her teens.

James Nelson first married a Miss Hawley who lived only a few years — no family. His second wife was Rhoda Evans and their family were Arthur and Lena, died in childhood; Stanley, 1882; ~~#4444~~ Clara Marie 1886; Bessie 1890, Irene 1895 and Fred 1897.

Philip Jonas married Isobel Coneland 1854 — family as follows — Frank 1885; Edward Blake 1886; Percy Ross 1888; Florence Olive 1890; Harold Oscar 1893; and Clarence Ewart 1898.

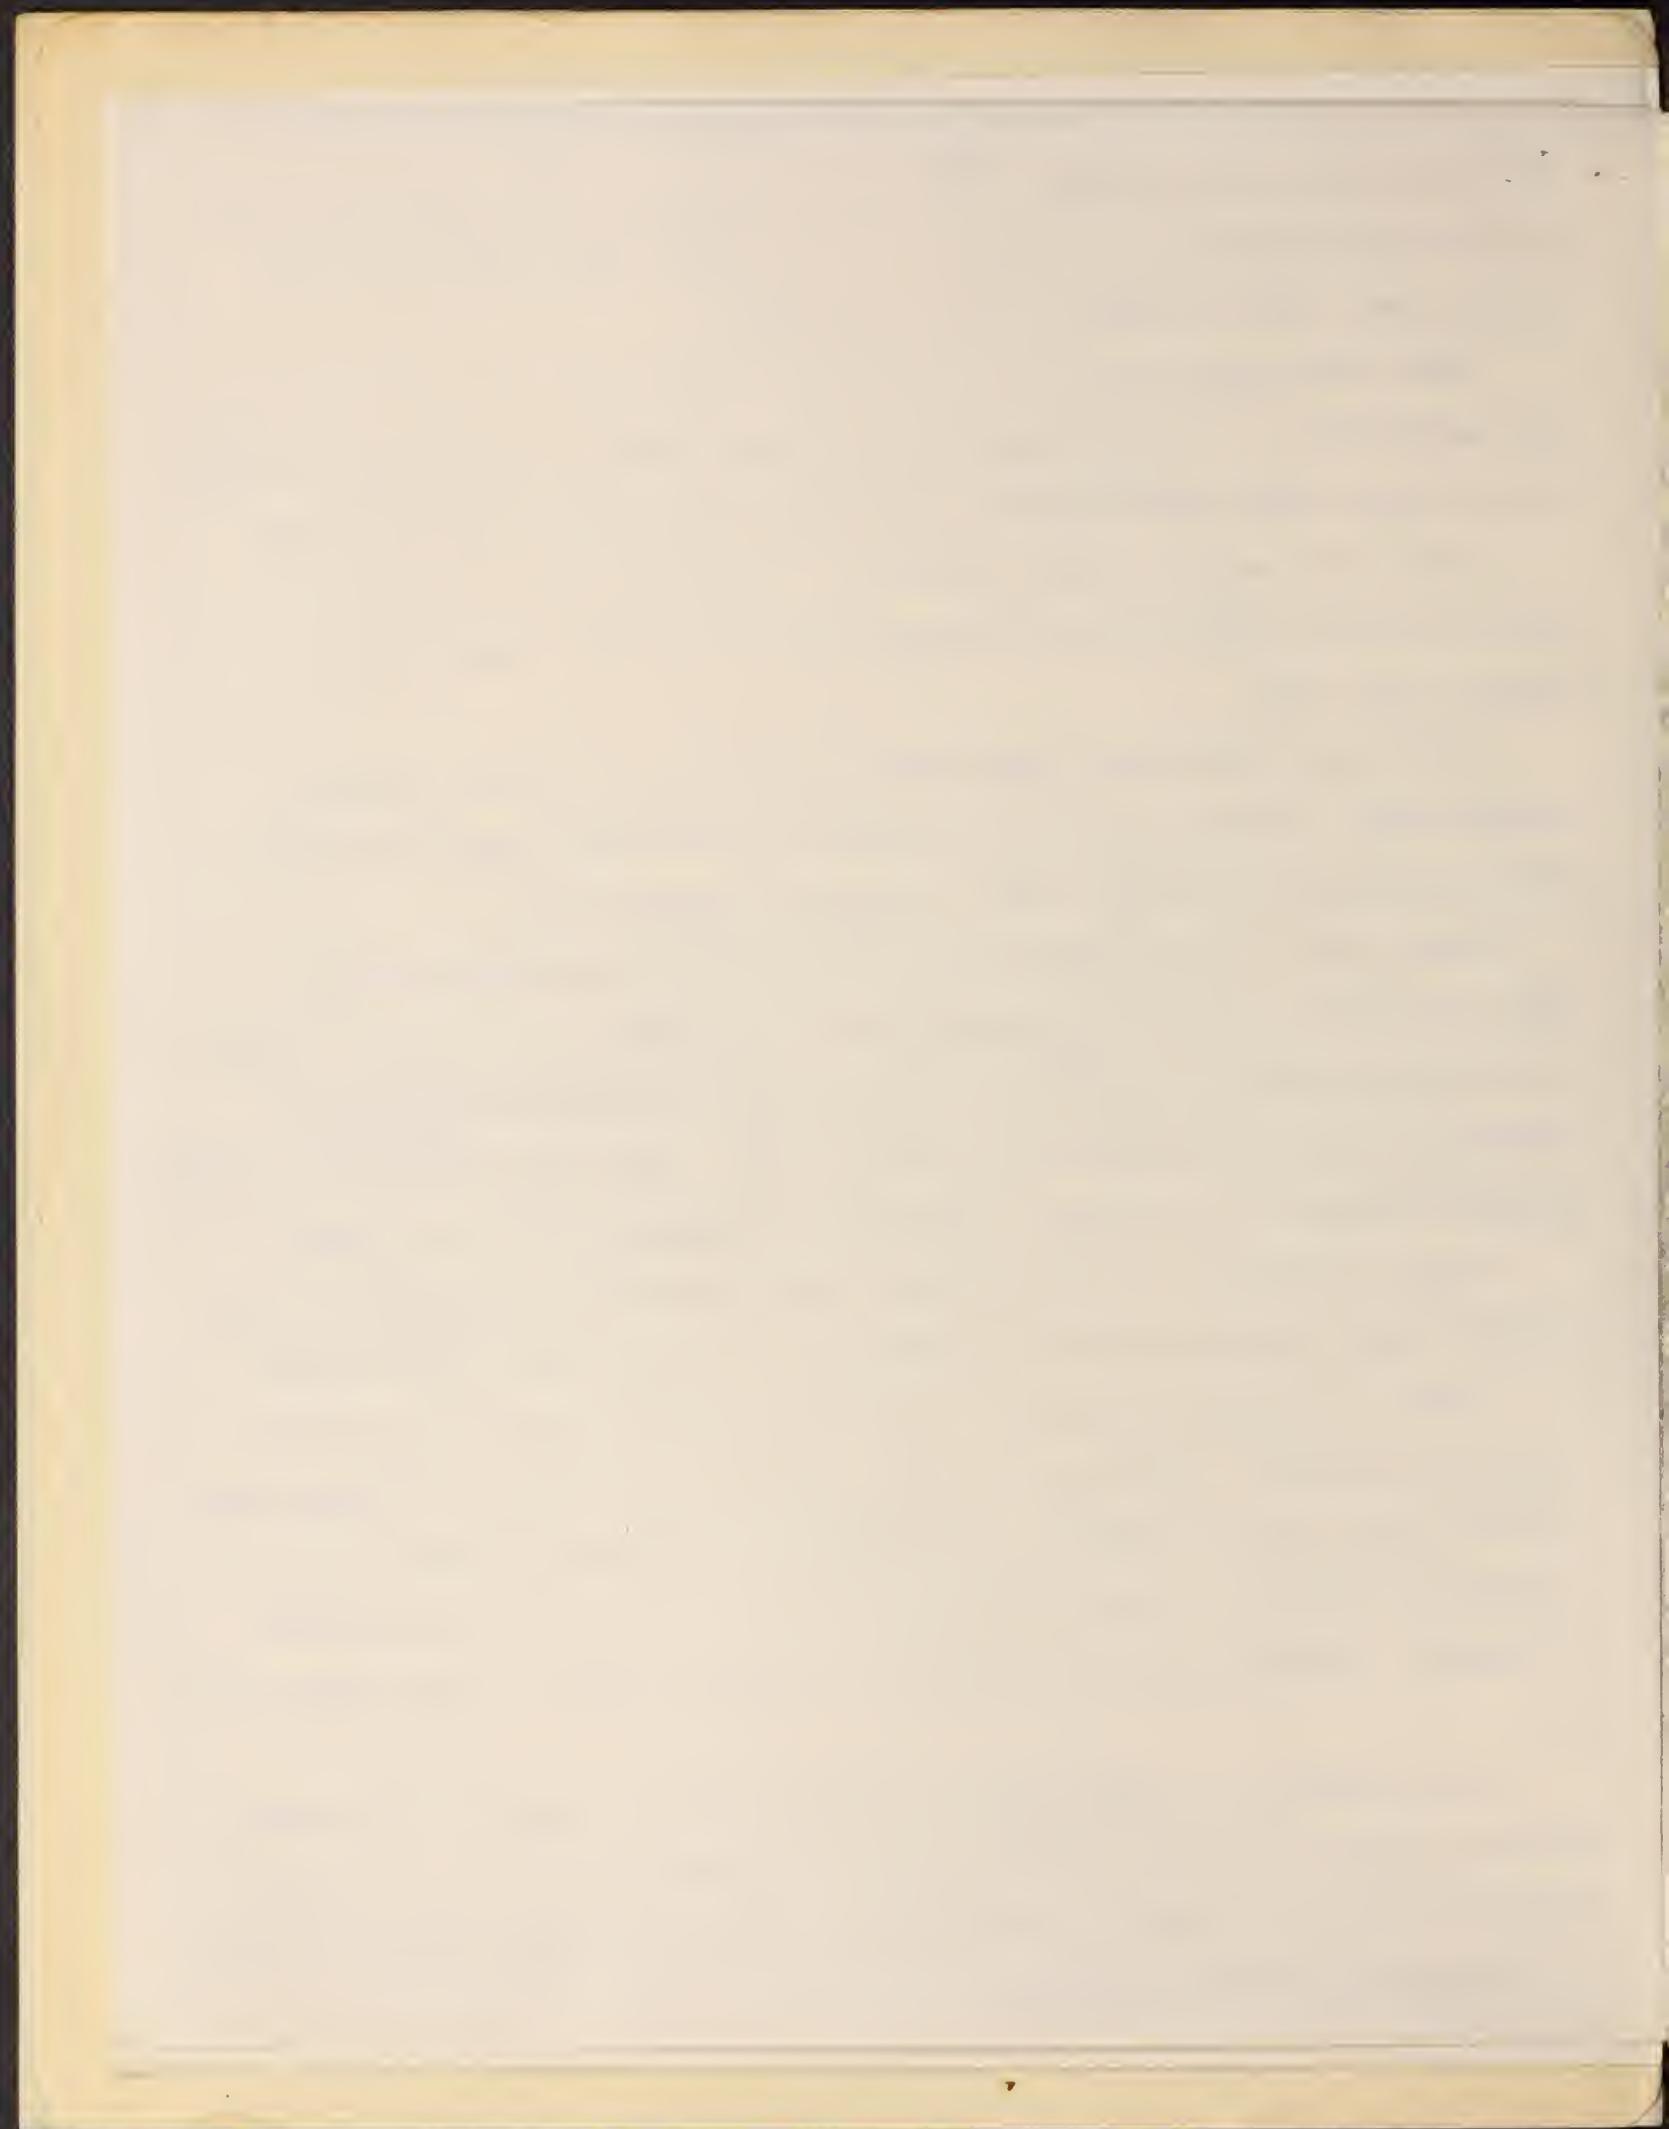

Mary Ellen first married Edward Purcell who died in a short time leaving a daughter Maud. She then married John Carswallen as her second husband and had two daughters, Emma 1879 and Delia 1883 — all moved to Peterboro 1903.

Philip, son of Norris Switzer (don't know his wife), had following family — Silas who married Sam Switzer's daughter (note) first cousin of his father's Philip, had two sons — Marshal and Melville. In a few years this mother died and in the meantime her sister had married Silas's father Philip. They raised Marshal and Melville. So their stepmother was their aunt. Our generation knew her as "old Aunt Mary".

Silas then married the widow of Robert O'Neill who was Forsythe O'Neill's mother. When Silas died this widow married Fred Battelle. Her maiden name was ~~Matilda~~ Mintz.

Joshua married Hannah Lochwood. They had one daughter, Blanche who married George Lee of Yarker. Alvin married Margaret Embrey. Two sons by this marriage; Athol and Eddie also a daughter Euphemia. They all moved to Bobcaygen years ago. Cynthia married Will Montgomery. They had six daughters — Ida; Mary; Imella; Mabel; Maggie and Jennie. Maggie married Chester Card — had one son, Korah. He died when a young man.

David's family — He settled on 3rd concession down near swamp. One son Stephen married a Cook, one son William married Anne Bell, Bowen Bell's sister. A house was built for each son so there were three houses on a hundred acre farm. Another son Amos lost his arm in the threshing machine.

-O

Ida died as a little girl, James as a baby, and Ibra 1869-98.

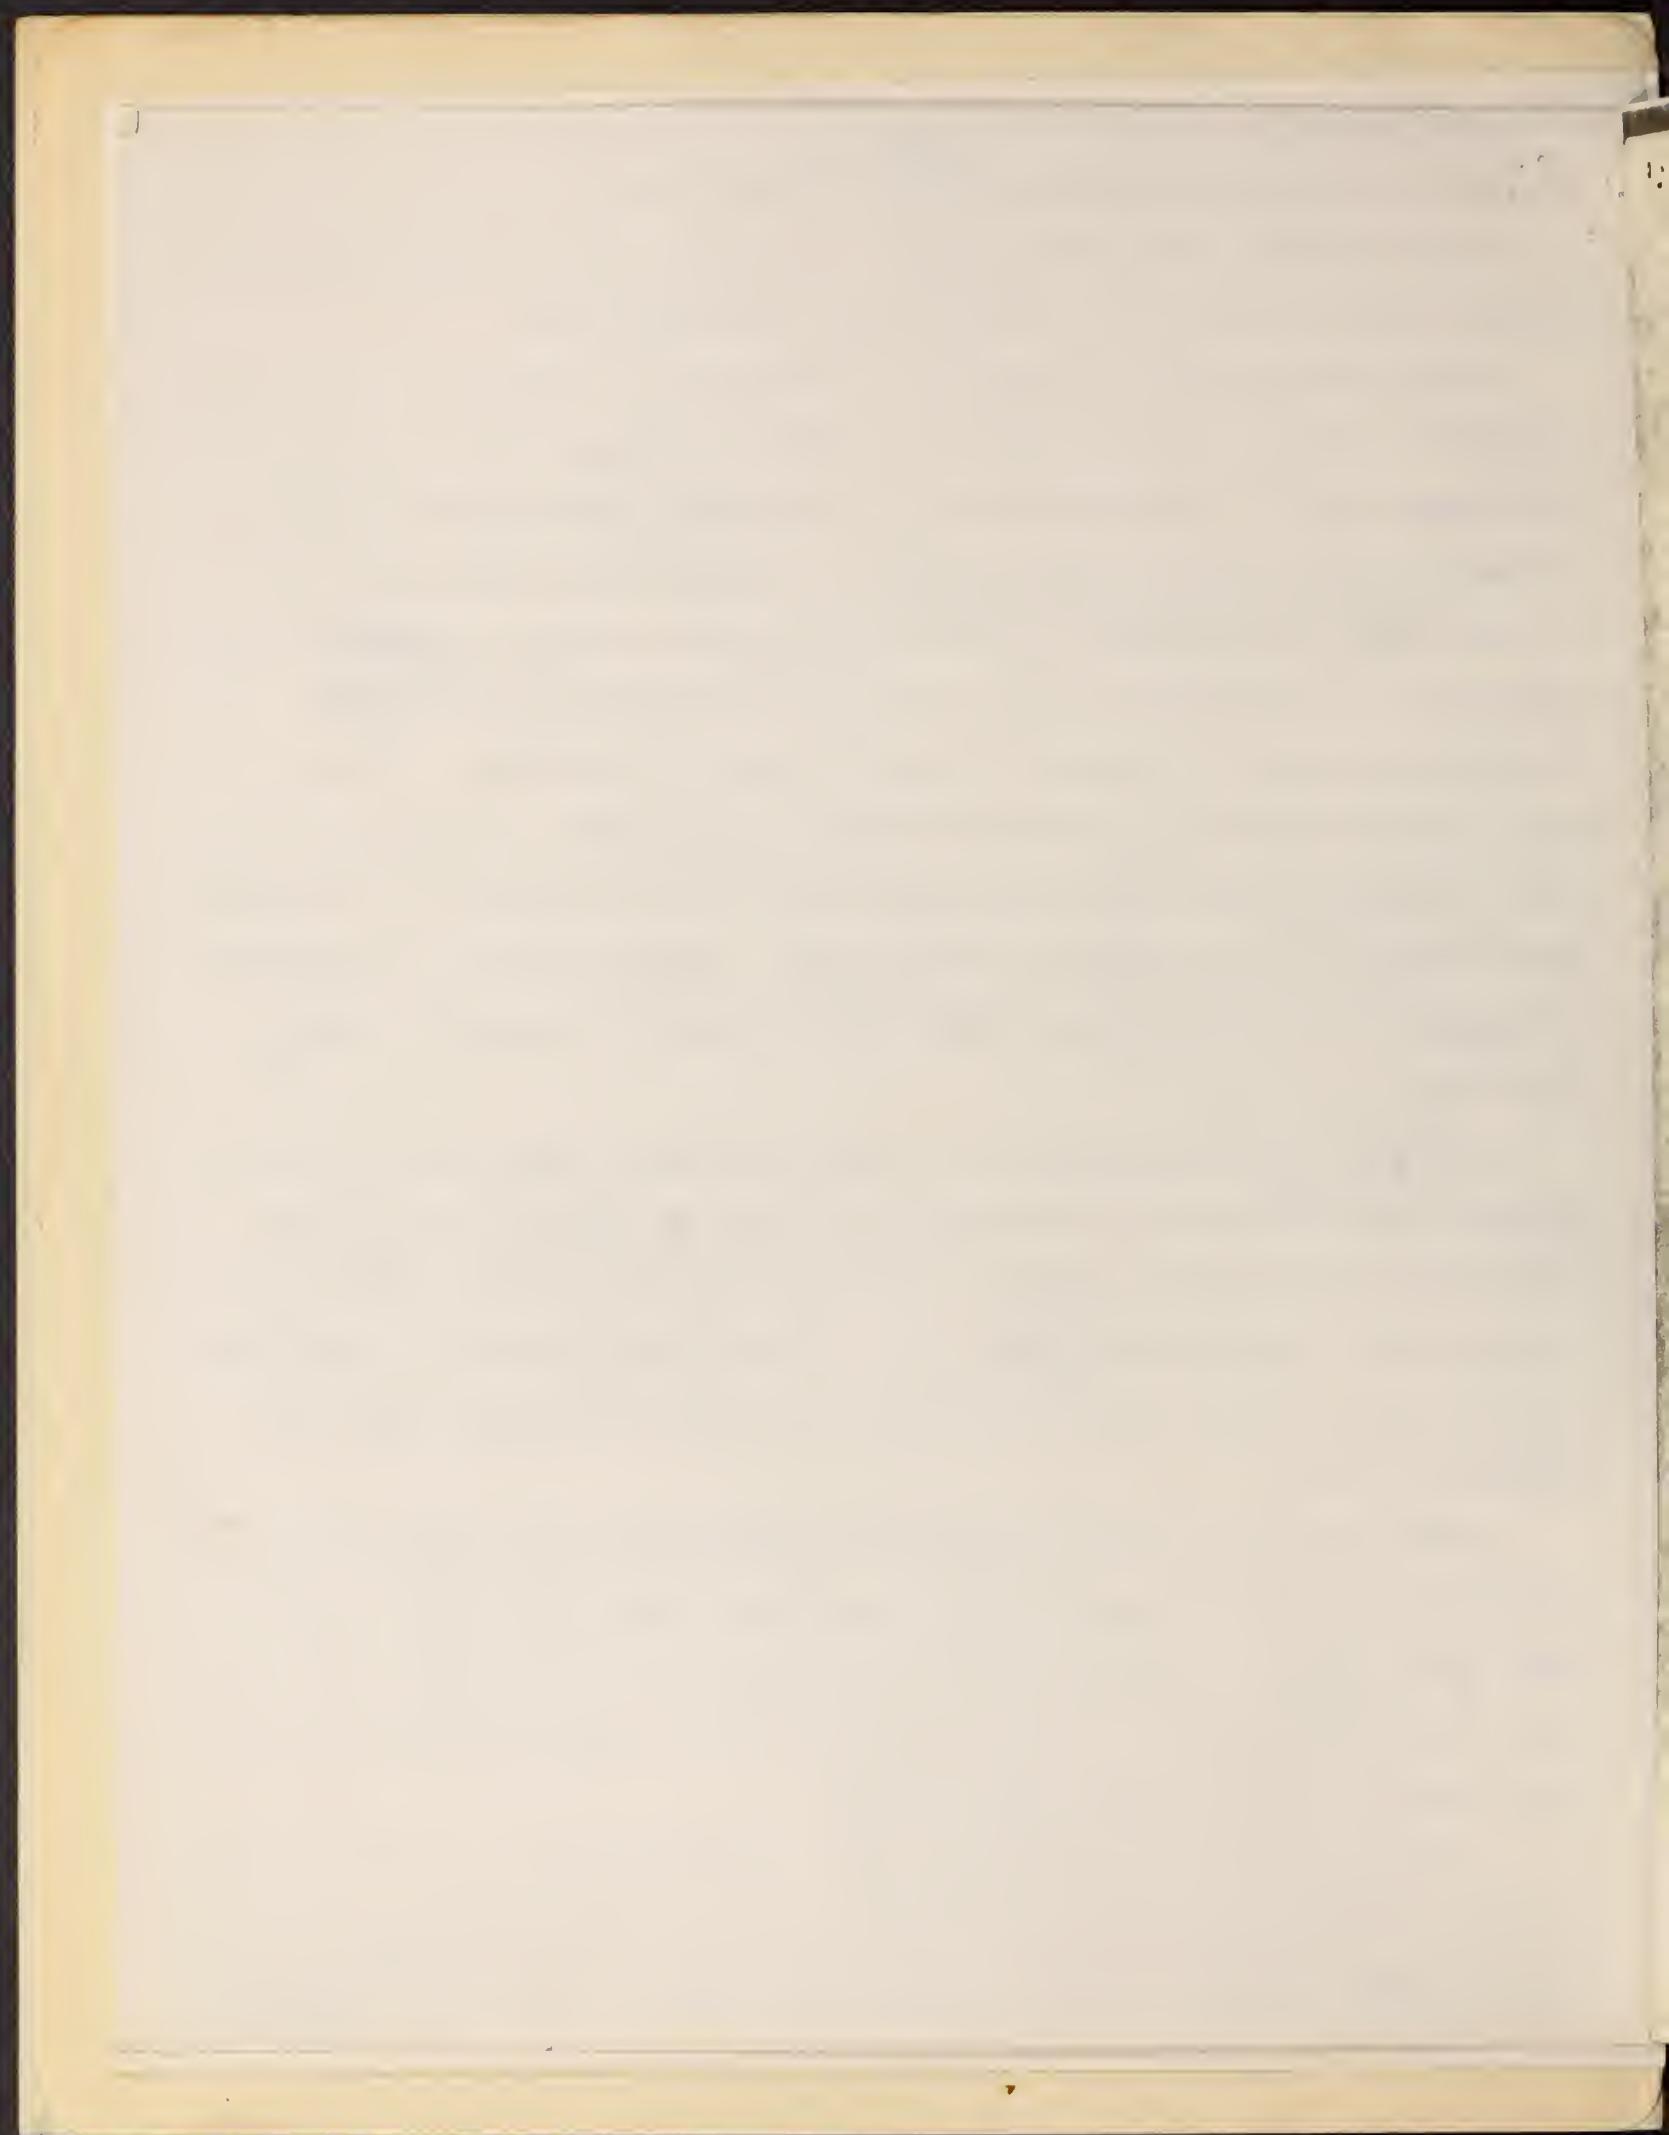

Daniel married a sister of Dow William; (the man who built the large brick house in Camden East.) No family and they never lived in this community.

Samuel last on the list - (not sure who he married but presume it was with the Card family at Moscow) Here are some of his family. William and Oran were carpenters and perhaps lived near Bellrock and Verona. Oran's granddaughter married to Willie Goodberry and lives in Harrowsmith. Her brother Stanley lived on Arlie Benn's farm also ~~also lives at Belleville~~ a short time. Ezra a blacksmith in Violet for many years. Aaron a blacksmith married a Miss Brass. These homesteads are now owned by Ed O'Connor on top of Switzer's hill where the cement silo is. Aaron also had a shop south of Bert Ramsays. In later years he worked sharpening tools for the "Gold Horn Mining Co". In our museum we have many of Aaron's old hand made tools, tongs, hammers, etc. which he and his son Douglas had worked with. This son Douglas had a son, Fred. Aaron lived to be a very old man and stayed with his sister, Mary, Philip's widow in the old homestead now owned by Carl Woessa.

At time of Sam Switzer's death his daughter Mary and a sister were spinsters and were left 10 acres on S. W. corner of what is now our farm. On this ten acres there was a log house facing 3rd Con. The one sister died and Mary married Philip for a second wife. By then Phil had bought his uncle Sam's farm, so when he married Mary he got the farm altogether again and in 1889 he sold this and 20 acres more to my father, H. F. Bell.

David Switzer, son of Sam, learned the shoemaker trade and his father built a house for him just below where the school is, which was known as the Irvine house in later years. Dave in a few years moved to Denbigh which was a new country. In later years he was known as Denbigh. Dave in the 1920's. His son George came back to Desmond and married the widow of James Nelson Miller.

In the register office recently I noticed that Dave never had a deed for that 1 acre of ground. Then he moved to Denbigh it was sold to Mr. Schmidler then Sam gave the deed. It was then sold to Mr. Yates and in 1864 to Mr. Wm. Greene, another shoemaker.

Mathias married Helen Bell and settled on 3rd Concession, where Harvey Dowdle lives. Helen would be an aunt of the Anne who married Wm. Switzer. They had a family namely— Ann Bell Switzer 1817; George Switzer 1818; James Bell Switzer 1819; Philip Greer 1820; Wm. McCorquadule 1821. where Philip Embury died from an injury received while at work in his field, at the early age of forty-five.

On the outbreak of the Revolutionary war these loyal Palentines, whose forefathers had enjoyed a refuge under the British flag, would not share the revolt against the mother country of the American colonies. Some of them removed to Lower Canada.

THE SWITZER DESCENDANTS

Peter Switzer was the father of six daughters and three sons. Three of his daughters married and remained in N. Y. state. His eldest daughter Betty was married to Garrett Miller in New York state and emigrated to Canada at the time of the war. G. Miller came first and erected a log house. His wife followed, accompanied by her brother, who carried her little daughter Rebecca on his lap on his horse around by the way of Montreal. Little Rebecca when grown to womanhood married Henry Bush and settled in the Township of Ernesttown. She was the honored grandmother of Messrs. John and Henry Wilson and of Mrs. D. Wartman of Selby.

Garrett and Betty Miller's descendants still are people of Ernesttown and are living in comfort and respectability. Garrett and Betty Miller's sons were Peter, Garrett, John and William. His three daughters were Mrs. Rebecca Bush, Mrs. David Ferry and Mrs. James Dougall, Picton. Among his grandchildren are the late Cephas Miller, Newburgh; Mrs. Phalen, Regina, N. W. T.; and Mrs. Dr. I. B. Aylesworth of Collingwood. Among his great-grandchildren are James and Peter E. R. Miller, Switzerville; Mrs. Chas. Evans, Switzerville; Mrs. Harvey Lake, Murvale; the late Rev. Mrs. Tucker; Mrs. H. Armstrong, Napanee; Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Stratcona.

Mary Switzer, Peter Switzer's second daughter, was married at Cambridge, N. Y., to Thomas Empey, and soon after emigrated to Canada and settled in Ernesttown, then comparatively a wild region. She was one of the first to welcome the messengers of Salvation - before. Her sons were Peter, Christopher, George and William and one day Peter, who became the wife of T. Bicknell, a wealthy farmer residing in Ernesttown. Peter Empey was a very popular and efficient "local preacher in the Methodist church. His powerful exhortations and musical voice will long be remembered by some of the early pioneers in this county. William Empey became a travelling minister in N. Y. state. George and Christopher were agriculturists living in Ernesttown. These brothers have long since passed on to their reward; but with the older people their memory is still fragrant. Among Mrs. Mary Empey's grandchildren are; Mrs. Feliz Hopper and her daughter, Mrs. U. Morley Wilson, Mrs. John Blanchard, Napanee; Mrs. Dow Williams, Camden East; Mrs. Fry, Newburgh; Mrs. Jos. Empey, Watertown, N. Y., and Mrs. Datur Dennison, Switzerville.

Peter Switzer's third daughter, Margaret Switzer was born in Limerick, Ireland and brought to New York State when six months old. She lived in N. Y. city for some years, then moved to Washington Co., where she grew up and in 1793 was married to Anthony Neville, a farmer and an U. E. L. After their marriage they emigrated to Canada. They started with two cows, an ox team and sleigh, putting in what furniture they could carry, and drove all the way around by Montreal, there taking the military road to Kingston and still further to Fredericksburgh, where they found a home.

A TEDIOUS JOURNEY

This trip occurred six weeks. After residing in Fredericksburgh eight years, they moved to the sixth concession of Ernesttown. To this neighbourhood several families of the Palentines had already come - the Millers, Maddens, Empeys, Switzers and others of the New York Methodists. Divine service was held once in two weeks in a log schoolhouse and prayer meetings in private houses.

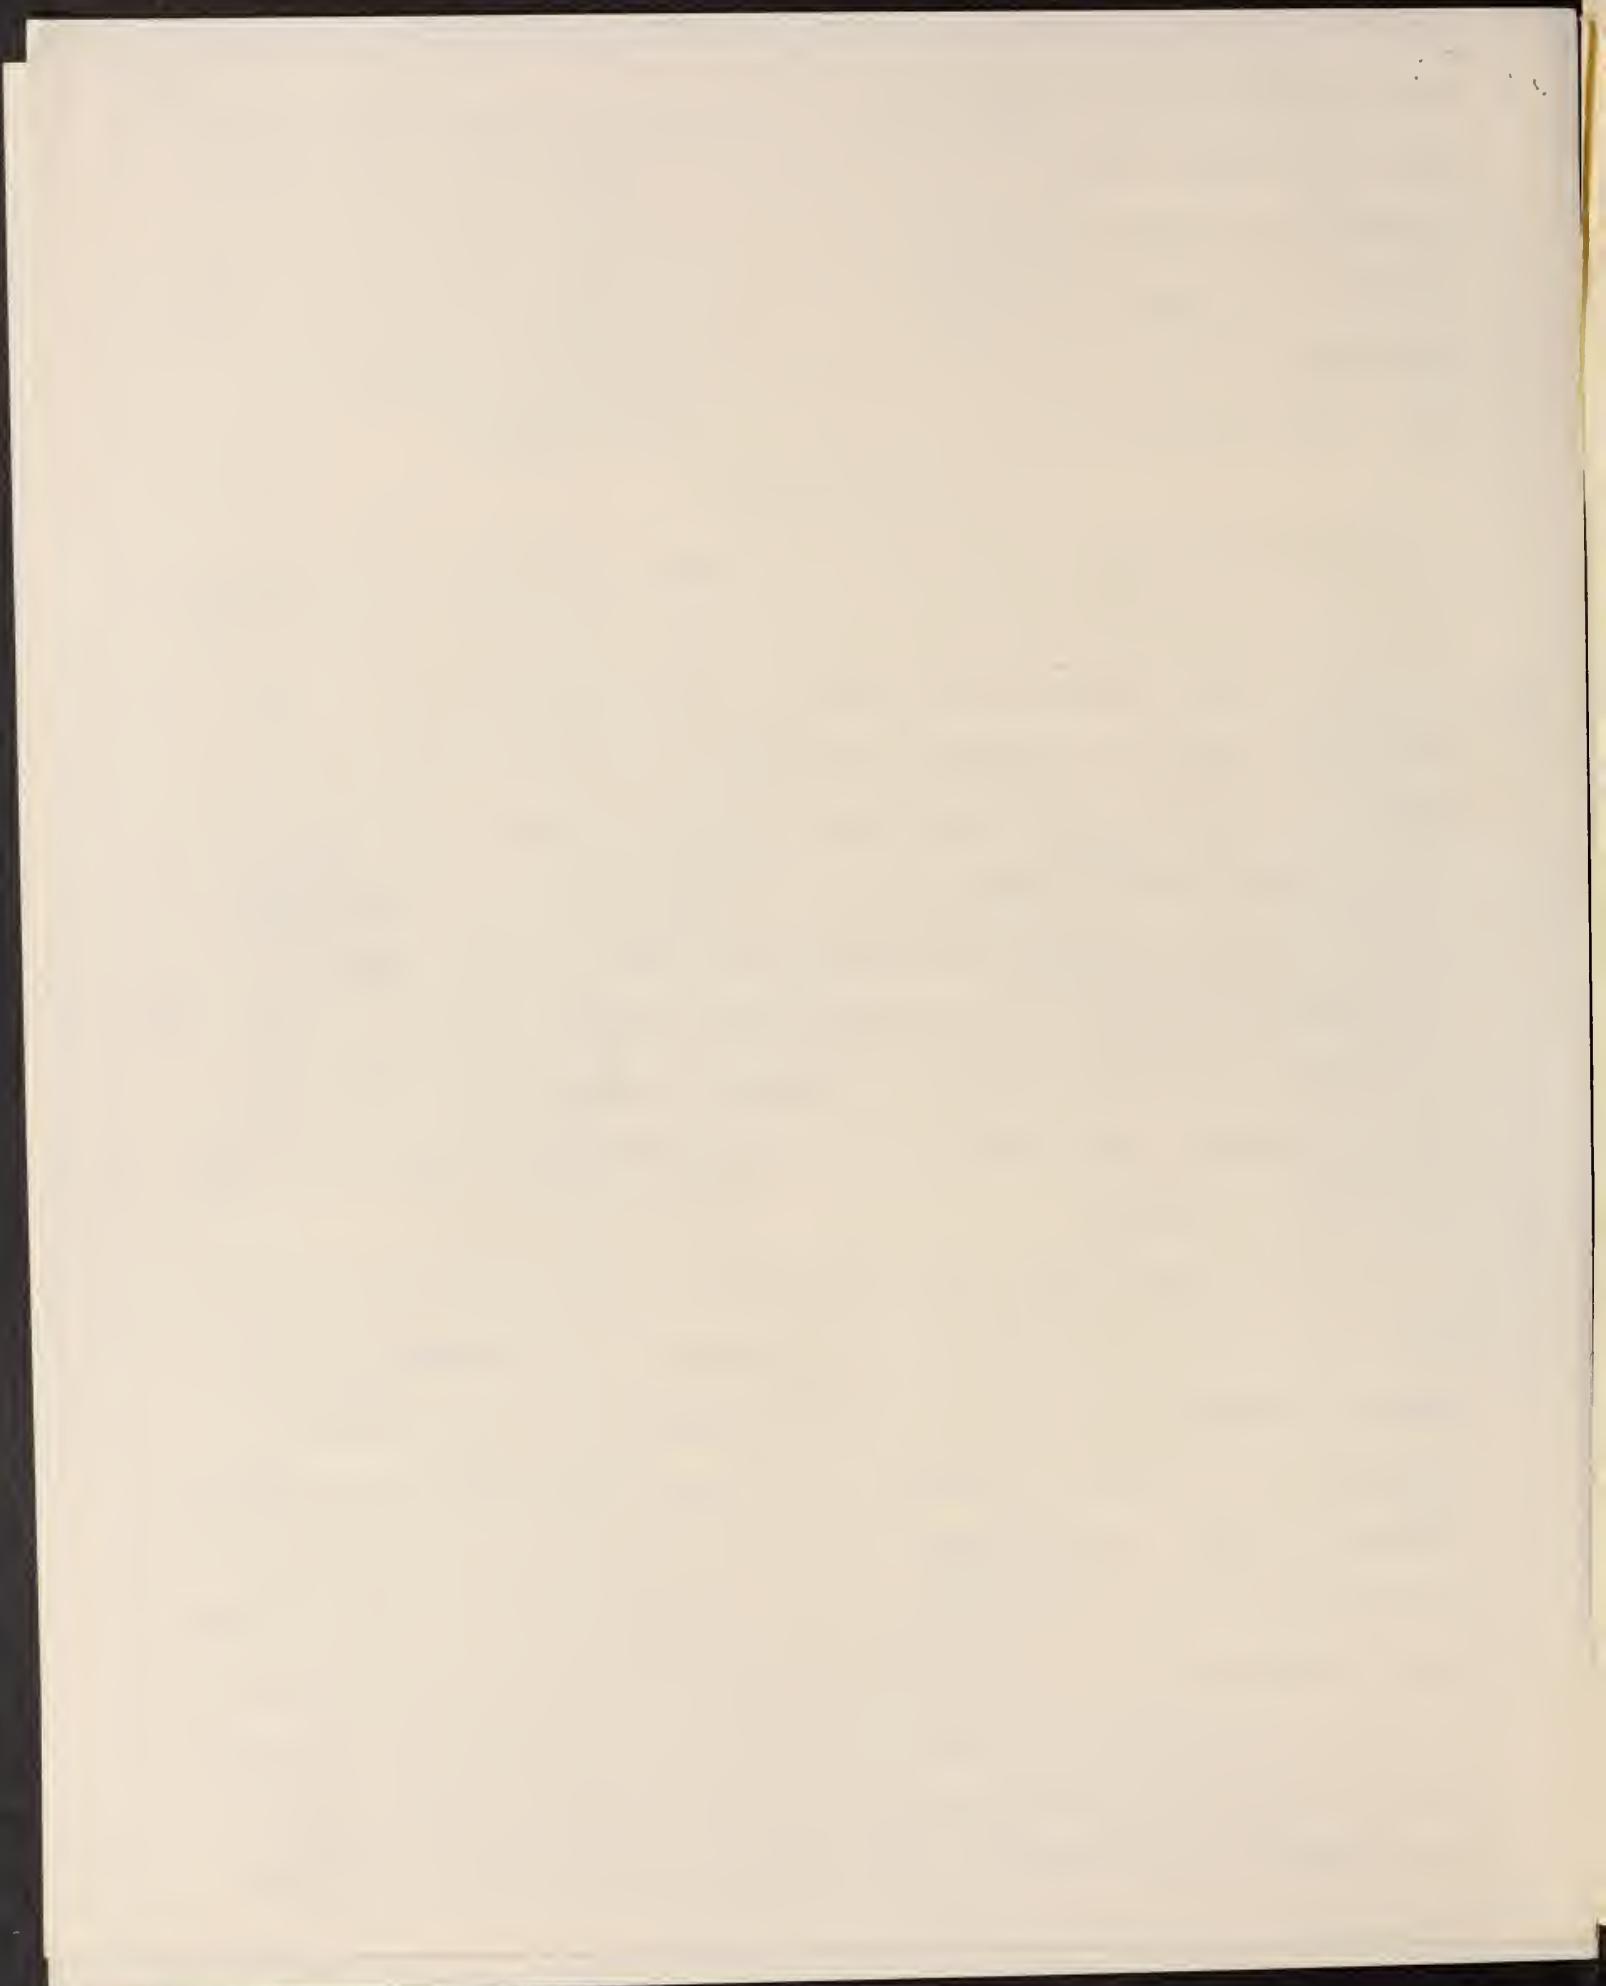

People came on foot for miles, guided by the glazed trees. About this date Mrs. Mary Switzer Empey returned to New York State and brought over to her home in Ernesttown her aged parents, Peter Switzer and his wife. They lived with their daughter, Mrs. Empey, till their death, which occurred when they were over 80 years of age. They were buried in the fourth concession burying ground in 1816. This church and cemetery is one of the oldest in Canada.

PETER SWITZER'S FAMILY

Peter Switzer's three sons emigrated to Canada at different periods; Philip the eldest, soon after the close of the war came to Canada and settled in the Township of Camden; John, in the Township of Loborough, where some of their descendants still live; Christopher, the youngest son, with his family of three sons and two daughters, settled in Ernesttown in 1807. On his farm the well-known Switzer's church was built in 1826, and the first conference and ordination service held in Canada was held in this church in 1828.

Christopher Switzer was an efficient and popular exhorter and class-leader in the Methodist church for years. He received an injury from a fall, which resulted in death, after a few hours of intense suffering, but they were hours also of peace and triumph.

His three sons, Elijah, John G. and Martin R., were agriculturists, and owned farms within a short distance of the church. In politics they were "Independent Liberals"; in religion, staunch Methodists, and early advocates and supporters of the cause of temperance. They were men of original and independent thought and energy. Elijah Switzer was Justice of the Peace and Recording Steward of the church for over thirty years. John G. Switzer, at the time of his death, was a class-leader of great acceptability. Martin R. Switzer was an honoured and useful local preacher for many years previous to his death, which occurred May 9th, 1860. He left three sons and one daughter - E. B. Switzer, residing on the homestead in Switzerville, where his sister lives; Dr. E. R. Switzer, practising his profession for many years in Salina, Kansas, and Wilbur F. Switzer, Deloraine, Manitoba. Elijah reared a family of eight children, four of whom are still living - Mrs. Rose, Dakota; Mrs. Fitzgerald, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Collins and Miss Mary, Napanee. John G. Switzer left a widow, four sons and three daughters. All of them have passed to their reward excepting three sons, Anson G. Switzer, Carleton Place; Wm. H. Switzer, Dresden, Ont.; and Robt. N. Switzer, Philadelphia, Pa.

Among the grandchildren are E. E. Switzer of Toronto, who married the only daughter of the late Rev. James Thompson; John Switzer, Miss Ettie Switzer, Mrs. O. L. Herring and Mrs. Knight of Napanee; Mrs. Samuel Bell, Walhalla, Dak; Mrs. Ed. Kaylor, Morven; Dr. Frank Switzer, Wm. John and Miss Carrie Switzer, Carleton Place.

CHRISTOPHER SWITZER'S two daughters are Mrs. Miles Shorey, and Mrs. John McKim, married and lived in the 7th con. of Ernesttown. Mrs. Shorey lived to an advanced age and was buried in the beautiful little cemetery on the homestead. Her sons were the late Christopher S., Centreville; Elijah, Watertown, N. Y.; Miles Shorey, Napanee. Anson, who still survives resides at Sidney. Her daughters were the late Mrs. J. Peterson, Toronto; Mrs. Martin McKim, residing in Switzerville; Mrs. Sana Guess, Yarker. Among the grandchildren are Wm. and George Shorey, Mount Pleasant, Ernesttown; Mrs. Addison Scott, Napanee; Rev. Sydney Shorey, Picton, Ont.; Rev. E. Shorey, Sydenham; Mr. Canfield Shorey, Napanee; Mr. Sydney McKim, Switzerville.

Mrs. John McKim, who lived and died in Switzerville, was the mother of five sons, Hiram., Peter, Miles, Christopher, of Cleveland and Nelson McKim, an old and much respected resident of Napanee. Peter has passed to his reward. Mrs. McKim's life and counsel did much toward moulding the character of her sons. "Her children rise up to call her blessed." Among her grandchildren were Mrs. George Shorey, Mrs. A. R. Boyes, Napanee, Anson and J. N. McKim, Montreal; Mrs. D. C. Rose, Tamworth; Rev. Mrs. Chant, Newburgh.
